HEART OF THE PEOPLE.

IT WAS WITH DEWEY IN THAT THRILLING NAVAL PAGEANT YESTERDAY.

Scenes of Enthusiasm Rarely if Ever Equalled Proved That the Great Republic is not Ungrateful to Its Greatest Living Admiral.

On Blue Waters, Noble Ships—An Exquisite Rainbow Above from Shore to Shore—Around Were Millions of His Countrymen Whose One Idea Was "Welcome"—And He Saluted the Tomb of Grant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Up to the peak of the Olympia went fluttering the four-starred flag of Farragut, which came to Dewey as a gift yesterday. On the bridge walked the third admiral of the United States navy, and so the ship and the fluttering flag started on their glorious journey to the tomb of Grant. Back of the beauty and grandeur of the naval parade of this day was the most impressive scene of the greeting of that which is at the grave of that which has been.

It is told by Logan that Grant once said to him: "I hope the American people will not forget me after I am gone." Hark! The Olympia is moving down the North River, under the shadow of the hills crowned by the tomb of Grant. Upon the famous bridge stands the chief of the navy, his head bare, while Lamberton's cap is also off, and beneath the feet of the two men the guns begin to rumble and roar the national salute to Grant's tomb.

Here comes the New York, Sampson at his post, the red flag with the two stars at the peak, and her guns speak. Then the Brooklyn, the Indiana, the Massachusetts and down through the whole list of that magnificent array of fighting craft, the voice of guns rang out for the glory of the dead hero. Forgotten? It was Dewey at Tompkinsville and Castle William, but it was Grant at Riverside.

There was no delay in starting the water pageant. The hour was fixed at 1 o'clock, and three minutes before that time black smoke belched out of the funnels of the Olympia and she began to move. The weather was superb. Strong winds were blowing, but the sky was flecked with white, and there were great patches of blue and warm sun, and little of the rain which the weather man had said might come.

Just as the Olympia left her station, a mist of rain swept across the harbor and was gone; the sun came out and from the Brooklyn bridge to the Jersey shore there sprang the arch of an exquisite rainbow. Just as on Tuesday, when the Olympia dropped her anchor off Sandy Hook and the rainbow spanned the sky, so now, at the moment when the gallant ship and her admiral were to pass before millions of eyes in proud review, the heavens were brightened again with the bow of promise, but it would be hard to say which was most radiant at that moment, the sky or the surface of the waters beneath.

Looking eastward from the anchorage of warships, as far as the eye could reach was a procession of steamers, tugs and yachts, bedecked from decks to peaks with flags, bunting or code signals, spelling "Welcome, Admiral." This line of craft extended into the Narrows, down to and under the guns of Forts Hamilton and Wadsworth, covering all the water space on the Jersey side, and leaving for the Brooklyn side nothing but a narrow strip of blue. The police arrangements were excellent; there was little crowding or jamming of the boats, and few accidents.

Dewey was on the after quarterdeck as the Olympia swung out into the stream, led by the police and fire boats. He was all a-tremble. The man's nature is so simple, so free from guile, that the overwhelming character of his reception by his own people was too much for his sensibilities. He looked to the right and left, cleared his throat, and finally drew a handkerchief and pressed it to his eyes. There was no question but what kindly tears had come to relieve him.

As if to give his thoughts another turn, a saucy tug-boat shot by the Olympia, and a jackie at her bow shouted: "Hey, Admiral, 'there'll be a hot time in old town tonight.'" The jackies on the man-of-war cheered, and the admiral laughed.

The Olympia was now headed to pass Castle William and Governor's Island. In her wake came the other fighting ships, with the Chicago, Rear-Admiral Howison in command, last. Then there were revenue boats and torpedo craft. The sailors of the City of New York followed, and then the yachts, led by J. Pierpont Morgan's black-sided Corsair. Most conspicuous in the line of yachts was Sir Thomas Lipton's Erin, flying three flags, each bearing a shamrock, and having on deck a bag-piper who blew many merry airs. The Erin was saluted and cheered at every move of the procession.

Bang! Seventeen guns rang out from old Castle William, that venerable pile which one shot from the Olympia would wipe out of existence. Bang! boomed the guns of the Olympia. The admiral from his position turned his eyes on the statue of Liberty. I cannot tell what his thoughts were, but this is the second time I have seen the crack ships of the navy go by that statue, and I noted the first time that Schley never took his eyes off it when he swept by. Perhaps it passed through the minds of each man that this pile was the visible emblem of that invisible sentiment for which stands the republic, its guns and its men who go down to the sea.

Looking from forward on the Olympia to the New York shore—to the Battery, Trinity, and St. Paul's—there was nothing to be seen after the eye passed the water but faces. Faces on the decks, faces in windows, faces on the roofs of sky-scrapers, where grandstands had been erected, faces on masts-heads of vessels at anchor, faces on long freight trains, on locomotives—all eyes were on the water. On every boat there was a band. Bands on the steamers not far from the Olympia began to play "Olympia," and Dewey, smiling, said to a young lieutenant near: "That's a tune I always like to hear." Again the "Star Spangled Banner" was played, and the admiral said: "We ought to have a law making that the national anthem."

It was 3 o'clock now, and the Olympia was almost off Grant's tomb. Riverside slopes were packed with humanity, above whose heads rose a gray pile. What would Grant have said or felt? Here, in one line, were the ships that beat down Montehio and Cervera, and the men who commanded those ships; the Marietta, which journeyed with the Oregon; the Winslow off which Dewey died; the best excursion raft of New York City; the yachts of Lipton, Morgan and Gould; the wealth of society and the commerce of New York City; a million strangers from other cities, on land and water, and all either moving to Riverside or having eyes turned in that direction. The stakeboat had been set in the center of the stream around which the procession was to pass, making the turn for its journey down the river again. In making the turn, the warships would be brought abreast of the tomb and give a national salute. As the Olympia swung and made the turn, how that flag of Farragut did flutter! Oh, but it was proud of its eminence! Dewey could be seen to raise his eye to it, and then he advanced to a position on the bridge where he would see the tomb of the hero of '65. He raised his hat, and there came the talk of the dogs of battle—not the savage roar of actual conflict, but the muffled sound of blank cartridges or charges, like the pealing of great bells in which volume takes the place of melody.

Slowly the Olympia moved down the stream, gun after gun telling the story of the Wilderness, of Lookout, of Appomattox, of Manila Bay—death and life. And when they ceased, the guns of the New York began their story, and so down the line of vessels, while from admiral to ensign caps were lifted and colors dipped to the memory of the man who hoped his people would not forget him. The sight was one for tears and smiles.

Back of the war vessels at first and then on their right, were the wooded slopes of the Jersey shore. On the other side were Claremont and the tomb, and myriads of people. Following were yachts and steamers, and, above all, such a sky as rarely comes at this season of the year.

The Olympia passed down the stream perhaps a mile, then anchored, and there passed in review before her all the craft afloat for the occasion. The admiral stood where he could be seen by the shouting people. Every whistle on the waters was blowing, and added to this the noise of cannon. The din was something frightful.

As the Sandy Hook passed the flagship, a cheer arose from her passengers and various salutations were sounded. "God bless you, admiral!" "Three cheers for Dewey!" Dewey responded by raising his hat and bowing. Other steamers came on, and the passengers of each had to add to the noise.

The warships anchored in a line beyond the Olympia, and the excursion boats continued to their wharves. It ended the greatest naval spectacle ever seen in this country.

SEEN FROM THE OLYMPIA.
A Tangle of Stacks and Flags and Enthusiastic People.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—No Roman conqueror returned to his triumphs of Pompeii or Carthage with more of a barbaric splendor than the victorious King of Prussia coming home from a successful war ever received such a magnificent ovation as overwhelmed Admiral Dewey today as he stood on the bridge of the Olympia, at the head of a magnificent fleet of steel thunderers of the deep, followed by a thousand vessels of peace, each tiered and coated black with people, and sailed over the bright waters of the upper bay and up the broad pathway of the Hudson, whose banks were gay with millions of flags and streamers dancing in the wind.

The sky was blue, the water rippled under the fresh wind that held out flags straight and jaunty, and the wharves and piers and rocky heights and grassy knolls were thronged with enthusiastic people, who strove weakly to make their shouts heard above the perfect bedlam of tooting whistles that accompanied the admiral ashore and aloft.

As the tomb of Gen. Grant on Riverside drive was reached, the fleet paid its tribute to the memory of the great warrior with a national salute of twenty-one roaring guns. The fleet then anchored and relieved the procession of craft that steamed past, so burdened with humanity that they looked as if they would turn turtle before they got back to their piers. Toward the end the parade became disorganized, and it took hours for the heterogeneous flotilla to get by. Dark masses at last brought relief to the tired admiral, who had stood on the bridge for six hours, bowing his acknowledgments to the stentorian expression of homage.

NOTHING LIKE IT.
New York has never witnessed anything before approaching this wonderful, remarkable demonstration. The

FOR OUR MEN.

American Prisoners to Be Released.

Filipino General Will Accompany Them to Manila.

Insurgents Can Hold Conference With Gen. Otis.

Nine Soldiers Wounded at Porco. Two Probably Fatally. Spanish Commissioners to Arrange With the Rebels.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) MANILA, Sept. 29, 4:50 p.m.—[By Manila Cable.] The American authorities are arranging the details for the delivery of the American prisoners at Angeles tonight or tomorrow. A Filipino general, an aid-de-camp and a secretary will accompany them to Manila.

The insurgents have been instructed that they may send a representative to confer with Maj.-Gen. Otis. The regiments are resting at Porco.

AFTER THE BATTLE. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) MANILA, Sept. 29, 5:12 p.m.—Gen. MacArthur's command has returned to Angeles where the details for the delivery of the American prisoners at headquarters, with 3000 troops. It is expected they will remain there until a general advance is ordered. There are no troops at Porco.

Nine Americans were wounded in yesterday's fighting, two probably fatally. It is estimated that fifty insurgents were killed or wounded. The American prisoners are expected here tomorrow, unless yesterday's whipping changed Aguinaldo's mind.

The Spanish commissioners who recently spent a month at Tarlac, arrived at Angeles today. They will proceed to the Philippines' lines. The commissioners say they are confident they will arrange for the liberation of all the Spanish prisoners. Lieut. Howland of Gen. Wheaton's staff has visited the inner line of Filipino outposts, presumably to notify them that the Spanish commissioners were coming. He met with a friendly reception.

GENERAL CONFERENCE. American Leaders May Go to Angeles-Skirmishes Near Imus. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) MANILA, Sept. 29, 9:30 a.m.—[By Manila Cable.] Gen. Otis and Gen. Schwan and possibly Gen. Lawton and Bates will proceed to Angeles today, where they may confer with Filipino commissioners as the result of an exchange of communications between Gen. MacArthur and the insurgents.

Two reconnoitering parties came into collision with the insurgents near Imus and four Americans were wounded.

OFFICIAL REPORT. Porco Battle Cleared the Way for Future Operations. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Gen. Otis today cabled the following report of the capture of Porco:

"Lawton's troops at Calumpit and San Fernando, where concentration taking place, ordered to cover country, Mexico, Guagua, Bacolor and Santa Rita. MacArthur ordered to take his troops and clear country west and in vicinity of Porco, which he did yesterday, advancing to Porco at an early hour with Ninth Infantry and Thirty-sixth Volunteers, capturing Porco and driving enemy north."

"Whitcomb, at Angeles, kept back enemy on the north, and moved force westward to interrupt Porco insurgents, but they retreated by mountain roads."

"Results clearing country preparatory to future operations. Our casualties at Porco, five wounded. Captured one officer and several enlisted men. Some twenty of the enemy killed. Number wounded unknown."

GEN. LAWTON'S OPINION. Writes That the Filipinos Will Make Good Americans. (A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.) MUNICIE (Ind.) Sept. 29.—At the annual meeting of the Delaware County Veterans' Association, a letter recently received by a member of the organization, J. W. Little, from Gen. H. W. Lawton, division commander in the Philippines, was read. The letter in part says:

"This is a beautiful country, and the people, in my opinion, are not half so bad as they are sometimes pictured. Centuries of bad government, and bad treatment, have made them suspicious, and it will be some time before we can persuade them that we are not here for the purpose of robbing them and making them slaves. As soon as they are assured of our good will and intentions, and we are enabled to show them by example that we mean only for their good and welfare, I think we will find the Filipinos as good Americans as any of our foreign element."

PHILIPPINE GOVERNMENT. President May Appoint a Civil Governor for the Islands. (A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.) CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A dispatch to the Record from Washington says that there is an accumulation of information to the effect that the President will soon appoint a civil Governor in the Philippines. The President is advised that he can appoint an official who, acting under military authority,

HE OUGHT TO KNOW.

HUNTINGTON SAYS HE IS AN INDISPENSABLE PARTY.

Uncle Collis Wants the Suit of the British Stockholders to Prevent Central Pacific Reorganization Put Out of Court.

Says He is not a Citizen of San Francisco, but of New York, and That He Got No Personal Summons.

State Board of Examiners in Session—Cook Seen With Two Pistols—Murder and Suicide at Portland—Big Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—C. P. Huntington filed a motion in the United States Circuit Court today for the dismissal of the suit of Walter Morshead vs. the Central Pacific Railroad Company et al.

Huntington alleges that he is an indispensable party to the suit. He alleges, further, that he was never personally served with the subpoena in the case, and that the service of the same upon the care-taker of his temporary dwelling place in San Francisco is void, for the reason that he (Huntington) is a citizen and resident of the city of New York, and that the temporary residence in San Francisco is the property of his wife, Arabella D. Huntington.

The affidavit is accompanied by others from E. Black, Ryan, R. P. Schwerin, W. H. Mills, W. G. Curtis, C. E. Wright, N. T. Smith and others, all certifying to the fact of Huntington's residence in New York City.

United States Circuit Judge Morrow made an order, fixing the next regular court day after next, Monday, as the day for hearing the argument.

The suit was brought on behalf of the British stockholders to prevent the proposed reorganization of the Central Pacific Railroad Company.

POWDER EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed at the Corn Mill at Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 29.—The accidental explosion of 1500 pounds of black powder in the corn mill of the powder works near here today caused the instant death of two employes, Joseph Steiner and Lars Laska, the latter being better known as E. L. Laska. Their bodies were badly burned, but not greatly disfigured. Steiner had one leg broken. The building, which was of wood, with an iron roof, and had stood for thirty-five years, was completely demolished.

Although the coroner's jury this evening declared that the cause of the accident was the explosion of the powder, it has been caused by heat, generated by the friction of the heavy rollers. The powder is brought in cakes to the corn mill, where it is sifted into fine grains.

JEALOUS HUSBAND'S DEED.

Portland Plumber Shoots His Wife and Her Sister, Kills Himself.

PORTLAND (Or.), Sept. 29.—Walter Clay, a plumber, aged 31, living in Albina, shot and killed himself at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Before taking his life he shot his wife in the back of the head. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause of the deed. They had been to the exposition and returned apparently in good spirits. No trouble is known to have existed between them.

The couple had retired and were alone in the house at the time. The shot attracted the attention of a little girl in an adjoining house, and she gave the alarm. The police and coroner were at once notified. Physicians hurried to the scene and did what they could for the wounded woman, but they say that her death is but a question of a few hours.

MISSING SAILORS SAFE.

Men Thought to Have Been Killed by Indians Heard From.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Mate John Widdons and Seamen Charles Sand and Joseph Reed of the schooner Bowhead, who left that vessel on July 12 in a small boat to take soundings at the mouth of the Kuskokwim River in Alaska, and were supposed to have been killed by Indians, have been heard from.

According to a letter received by the Alaska Commercial Company from Edward Lind, a trader at Puskokwim, the three missing men are alive and well at Quinehamagut, a camp about one hundred miles up the Kuskokwim River. From this place they can reach the Yukon in five or six days and thence make their way to St. Michael. It is believed, however, that there is a scarcity of supplies in the camp where they are located.

After they had landed their vessel the Bowhead was driven to sea by stress of weather. The men waited a month for its return, and though it did try to find them, they were unaware of the fact, and made their way up the river until friends were found.

MRS. RICKERT'S CASE.

Woman Railway President Ordered Released from Custody.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—By order of the State Supreme Court today, the Sheriff of Tuolumne county was instructed to release from his custody Mrs. Annie Kline Rickert, held for contempt.

Mrs. Rickert is president of the Stockton and San Joaquin Railroad Company, and her alleged contempt consisted in her recent refusal to instruct her secretary, Robert C. Clarke, to produce in the Tuolumne County Superior Court certain books belonging to that corporation, during the hearing of a case in which it was defendant.

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES.

Fire Wipes Out Many Buildings at Grant's Pass, Or.

GRANT'S PASS (Or.), Sept. 29.—The most destructive fire in the history of Grant's Pass began at 12:30 o'clock today in the Palace Hotel, a two-story frame building.

The strong breeze from the west added greatly to the fury of the flames, which spread in three directions in an incredibly short time. Front street was entirely wiped out from one block from Wade's grocery, to Dixon & McCrosby's two-story brick building. The fire also extended south and east of Fifth street and completely destroyed every building on the west half of a block.

Inside of an hour and a half sixteen business houses and eight warehouses and smaller buildings had been destroyed. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have been a defective flue. The total loss is about $75,000. The insurance is $20,000.

THE MCKENZIE TRIAL.

Prosecution Will Probably Close Saturday.

SUISUN, Sept. 29.—The prosecution in the McKenzie case will probably close on Saturday. The principal witness today was Mrs. Jessie Walters. Objections to the admission of her testimony were in part sustained. She stated that she had known Cook for five years and had written several letters to him while he was employed at Walker's Landing under the name of Dorman. She had obtained a promise from McKenzie to secure Cook employment in Napa. She warned McKenzie not to mention the matter to her husband. She admitted having written the letter that brought Cook to Napa. She had seen Cook with two pistols but could not identify the revolver found by his dead body as his property.

The other witnesses examined were Richard Ivers and J. E. Beard. Miss Daisy Pulsifer, who took shorthand notes at the coroner's inquest, was called, but excused as she did not have the notes with her.

HOBART'S ESTATE.

Final Distribution Reached After Many Years in the Courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—After seven years of slow progress through the courts, unmarked by any of the final distribution of the estate of the late Walter S. Hobart, has been ordered by Judge Trout. Hobart, who died June 4, 1892, was worth, according to the inventory and appraisement, the sum of $5,273,368. His will, which was drawn April 15, 1892, bequeathed his entire estate, share and share alike, to his children, Walter S., Alice M. and Ella V. Hobart. Charles T. Bridge and James Cross were named as executors.

On September 20, 1894, all of the estate assets were transferred to the heirs to the Hobart Estate Company, and on the 18th of this month this corporation applied to the Superior Court for the final distribution of the estate properties remaining in the hands of the surviving executors, James Cross, Mr. Bridge having died September 13, 1895. Today the application was granted.

MORE GOLD STORIES.

Reported Strike at Cape Prince of Wales.

TACOMA (Wash.), Sept. 29.—Another story of gold discoveries in the North has been brought down by Col. Frank Haight, a well-known Salt Lake mining man, who has mining interests in Alaska. Haight was one of the passengers who came down on the Albatross, which had come directly out from Anvil City. He says that a short while before he left there some prospectors came in with a report of a great strike at Cape Prince of Wales, which is about one hundred miles north of Cape Nome. Haight says there was an immediate stampede for the new grounds, and many of the miners who had good claims on the beach at Cape Nome joined in.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

New Roof for Whittier School Decided on at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—The State Board of Examiners held a special session this morning with the trustees of the State Reform School at Whittier, and the result was that the trustees were allowed to create a deficiency of $15,000, to be expended in putting a new roof on the building.

NAVY YARD AFFAIRS.

Orders for the Maribhead—Many Desertions Among the Marines.

MARE ISLAND, Sept. 29.—Orders have been received at the navy yard to have the Maribhead, now in the drydock ready for sea in five days. The constant desertion of marines is causing considerable trouble on the cruiser Philadelphia.

Col. Duboce Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The Republican municipal caucus tonight made the following nominations: Mayor, Albert Heyer; Tax Collector, J. Harry Scott; Recorder, W. C. Tiffany; District Attorney, A. P. Black; Public Administrator, John Farnham; County Clerk, W. A. Deane; Sheriff, John Lammann; Coroner, Dr. A. D. McLean. The only exciting contest was that for the place of County Clerk, in which the incumbent, W. A. Deane, succeeded in defeating Col. Victor Duboce of the First California Volunteers.

U. P. Train-robbers Located.

SEATTLE, Sept. 29.—Three of the Union Pacific train-robbers, who, in July last, held up the east-bound express near Rock Springs, Wyo., and relieved the Pacific Express messenger of his money, containing over $125,000 in cash, have been located in this city, and arrests are expected to result, at any time.

Doubted Her Lover.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Julia Baskin, who today was arrested by shooting herself through the lungs with a pistol. She feared that her lover was about to leave her, and was despondent. She will die.

MEXICAN OFFICIAL'S VISIT.

Gen. McKibbin Detailed to Escort Mariscal to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A special to the Chronicle from San Antonio, Tex., says that Gen. McKibbin is detailed to accompany the Mariscal to Chicago, commanding the Department of Texas, with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, has been designated as the representative of the President of the United States to meet Mr. Mariscal, Vice-President and Minister of Foreign Affairs of Mexico at Chicago. Gen. McKibbin has been advised by wire of his selection to act as the President's representative in the reception and entertainment of the distinguished guest from Mexico, and was directed to proceed to Eagle Pass about October 2, accompanied by one of his staff officers, for the purpose of meeting Mr. Mariscal.

He will escort the visitor to Chicago, and upon the termination of the functions at that place is directed to return to his station in Texas, unless otherwise ordered. Mr. Mariscal will arrive at Eagle Pass on the morning of October 3, where he will be met by Gen. McKibbin and civilian committees.

can go ahead and form a government and give a civil administration. He can form this government to the extent of having it complete for adoption by this Congress if Congress should so choose to act.

This advice to the President is based on the military administration of affairs in the Territory of California, before it was taken into the Union. The President had appointed a military Governor, who was to administer the Territory. He created a government and was so complete and satisfactory that when the Territory was taken into the Union by Congress the existing government was accepted.

If the President should appoint a civil Governor, that officer should proceed to the formation of a government, satisfactory to the party leaders, he might be impelled not to interfere in the next Congress, letting the policy stand for itself in the Presidential election.

ACTIVE MILITARY OPERATIONS.

General Forward Movement to Clear Pampanga Province.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Active military operations against the insurgents have begun under the direction of Gen. Otis. The capture of Poroc yesterday was only a part of the general forward movement, the plans of which were communicated to the War Department early in the week by Gen. Otis. An outline of the proposed operations was forwarded to the Secretary of War several weeks ago. The purpose of the renewed operations at this time is to clear Pampanga province of rebel organizations that have been forming and preparing for a defense of their position when the campaign should be opened by the Americans in the fall.

Gen. Otis received information that the insurgents were planning to effect complete organization. Poroc was to be used as one of their strategic positions. A high range of mountains lies to the west of the town, but to the north are insurgent positions, and Gen. Otis determined on securing Poroc as a base of operations to clear Pampanga province of hostile natives. To secure Poroc, Gen. Wheaton was ordered south from Angeles, while the troops of Gen. MacArthur and Wheeler would make a simultaneous advance northward from Santa Rita.

Meanwhile, Gen. Lawton was ordered to stretch a line across the railroad from Santa Rita to the northwest to Mexico. Lawton accordingly moved his troops up the railroad to Calumpit and established headquarters there, meanwhile covering the towns of Mexico, Bacolor on the railroad, and Guagua and Santa, which was to prevent the retreat of the enemy from Poroc southeast toward Manila.

MacArthur's division will be able to operate actively against the Filipinos around Poroc and Angeles. Wheaton has returned to Angeles, and it is probable that he will assist in another advance, driving the enemy further north.

OFF TO MANILA.

OVER TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED MEN LEAVE TODAY.

Transport Charles Nelson Carries Two Companies of the Thirty-second Regiment and the Glengie Takes Seven—Three Companies and the Full Thirty-third Regiment Go by the Sheridan.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Three transports will sail tomorrow for Manila. They are the Charles Nelson, Glengie and Sheridan.

The Sheridan will carry the Thirty-third Regiment, three companies of the Thirty-second Regiment, and seventy-five recruits.

The Glengie will carry seven companies of the Thirty-second, and the Nelson two companies of the same command.

In all, over 2500 men will be on their way to Manila tomorrow night.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RECRUIT.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Fred O. Brown, president of the Epworth League of Chicago, has enlisted for service in the Philippines. He will leave his home this afternoon for Fort Meade, Pa., where he will join the Forty-seventh Regiment of volunteers. Brown is a son of Rev. A. S. Brown of Evanston, and leaves a lucrative position.

NEW SMALLPOX CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The illness of Corp. Larabee of the South Dakota Regiment has developed into unmistakable smallpox, and he has been sent to the isolated camp at the Presidio. There has been no increase in the smallpox cases in the Thirty-first Regiment. Corp. C. D. and 12 of the Twenty-ninth Infantry arrived from the East today.

HUIDEKOPF'S DEFENSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29.—Col. R. S. Huidekoper, late Lieutenant Colonel and chief surgeon of the First Army Corps, and of the United States troops in Porto Rico, stirred up a lively discussion in a paper on "The organization of the First Army Corps."

Col. Huidekoper, who had been criticized because of his management of the army camps, took occasion to defend himself and the volunteers late Wednesday and to attack Surgeon-General

Of the completion of our newly enlarged, remodeled and refitted

Cloak and Suit Dept.

8 A. M. — TODAY — 10 P. M.

The day of opening dawns today. Come worship with us at fashion's shrine. The world of style and beauty bids you welcome. All that could add to your pleasure, your comfort or your profit have been provided.

In extending to our friends and customers and invitation to inspect our fall styles of cloaks, suits, wraps, dress goods and silks and ladies' and children's wearing apparel of all description, we take pleasure in announcing that we are prepared to offer, without question, one of the choicest collections ever exhibited in Los Angeles. Hale's goods are made for Hale, and are perfect even to the minutest details.

All we ask is an examination of our display today, which we assure you is worthy of the attention and inspection of every lady in Los Angeles and surrounding country.

We Know You Can't Help But Be Pleased,

And greatly impressed while attending our annual fall opening, but what we want is to make a lasting impression, we know of no better way and in fact no other way than to give you such an Avalanche of Genuine Bargains, (even if we do lose on this one day's sales) we want to make lasting friends and customers.

What is There That Will Bring a Lady Back the Second Time? Why, Sure, It's Bargain, and that is Just Where Hale's Get Their Hold.

So don't forget that although you are perfectly welcome, even if you don't come to buy, even a paper of pins, yet if you are liable to need any goods within the next 30 days, you will feel well repaid if you will partake of the RIGHT TO TIMBER.

Ontario Government Files Answer to Lumbermen's Petition.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

TORONTO (Can.), Sept. 29.—The Ontario government has filed its answer to the petition right of the Michigan lumber men. It pleads:

First, the long-standing provision of the law that all licenses granted must be subject to such conditions, regulations and restrictions as may be established from time to time; second, that as all the regulations were not complied with, the crown lands commissioner had no authority to renew their licenses to the suppliers; third, that the supplies acquired on an enforceable right in respect to the licenses beyond a year from date of issue; fourth, that the log-export law is in violation.

The main defense appears to be that the purchasers enforceable rights are limited to a year's license. In an interview this point is discussed by one of the suppliers' counsel, who quotes the speech of a former crown lands commissioner, in which the license holder is put forward that the license holder is really the owner of the timber, not simply of a year's right to cut it.

HARD ON GAL.

Alleged Treasonable Letter to a Conspirator Published at Paris.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(By Atlantic Cable) Marquis de Gallifet, the Minister of War, having written to Figaro, asserting that he had never written to the Duc d'Orleans since the end of 1898, when he declined the latter's invitation to shoot at Woodmont, the intrinsically his morning reply by publishing a letter which, the paper says, was seized among the papers of Andre Buffet, one of the persons recently placed on trial before the Senate sitting as a high court of justice, on charge of having conspired against the state.

In his letter the Marquis de Gallifet says: "If the Republicans are so stupid as to confide the Ministry of War to me, you, monsieur, will not have occasion to be dissatisfied with me."

FIRE AT CINCINNATI.

New Passenger Station Badly Damaged by Fire.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—At 1:10 a.m. this morning fire was discovered in the big warehouse occupying a block bounded by Central avenue, Pearl, Plum and Second streets. The fire quickly spread to other railway buildings, including the freight sheds, where forty loaded freight cars were burned and thirty that were not loaded.

The new passenger station was so badly damaged that no morning trains could leave that place. The approaches to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway bridge were also badly damaged. The loss is estimated at over $1,000,000.

PAN-PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

Next Meeting of the Assembly Will Be Held in London.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—By the committee charged with the selection of the next place of meeting of the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance it was decided this morning to hold the meeting in London, Eng. No determination was reached, however, as to the time for the meeting.

At today's session of the alliance the Presbyterians of South Africa was admitted to the membership.

A formal letter of thanks to the President of the United States expressing grateful appreciation for his reception to the delegates last Wednesday evening was sent today.

Causes of Loss of Hair

Dr. Sabouraud, the eminent French Dermatologist, says that 98 per cent of hair losses are the results of microbes and the neglect of dandruff. The antiseptic action of preparations kills microbes and removes dandruff. Their constant use for a period will, by acting "cover the hair bulbs, furnish nourishment, vitality and growing power to the impoverished roots and hair shafts, resulting in complete restoration.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

MODERN MEDIAEVALISM.

Customs Still Observed Daily Which Existed in the Middle Ages.

[London Mail.] In Lincoln's Inn, London, a bell rings every evening at 9 o'clock. This is the curfew, derived from old French words meaning "cover the fire," and it is an order for all who live in the inn to put out their lamps and fires.

Another funny old custom is the heaving of the town crier, who goes about with a bell announcing rewards for lost dogs or purses, advertising entertainments, and telling the news. You may hear the town crier any day in Dartmouth, and the little boys are not allowed to annoy him on pain of whipping. Several small English towns have not yet awakened to the fact that the Middle Ages are gone and that this is the end of the nineteenth century.

There are determined attempts at times to revive ancient customs. In 1839 there was actually a tournament held at Eglington Castle. Young gentlemen in boiler-plate armor tilted at each other with lances, while hosts of fashionable people sat under umbrellas and cheered them.

Lady Seymour was queen of beauty, and the Emperor Napoleon III of France was among the ancient knights who jostled for her favors in the lists. It rained "cats and dogs" the whole time, the horses slithered about in the mud and the gallant knights rolled about in the mire, unable to rise again without assistance on account of the weight of their armor. The event is said to have been the most comic in all the history of England.

Another ancient and peculiarly British custom is the pealing of church bells. Does anybody remember that it was Pope John IX, in the year 900, who ordered the clamor of bells to frighten away thunder and lightning? There are country places in England now which are quite capable of taking the good pope's advice.

Look at the way some of our justices of the peace serve out the law to the commonalty. A man is savagely punished for breaking the game laws, but for breaking his wife's head with his boot he gets a gentle reprimand and a small fine. And that is because so many of our justices of peace still live in the Middle Ages.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, Sept. 29.—(Regular Correspondence.) Euclid avenue outside the town limits is being put in repair. It has been in such bad condition that Cuckamunga and North Ontario travelers have long been complaining about it.

Rev. A. A. Randall, the new pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will begin his labors here Sunday.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Notice is hereby given that the lighthouse tender Madrono will be moved this day in the position of light-vessel No. 70, about three and one-quarter miles outside San Francisco bar, to remain until No. 70 returns to her station, about October 7, 1899.

The Madrono is painted drab with white upper works, two masts with black smokestack between them. At night a fixed white light will be shown from each masthead, in lieu of the two flashing white electric lights of No. 70. During thick or foggy weather the ten-inch steam whistle of the Madrono will be sounded by hand, giving the same characteristics as No. 70. Flashes of two seconds' duration, separated by silent intervals of thirteen seconds, rated: flash, 2 sec.; silent interval, 13 sec.; flash, 2 sec.; silent interval, 13 sec.

This notice affords the "List of Lights and Fog Signals" of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, 1898, page 17.

By order of the Lighthouse Board, Commander, U. S. N. Inspector Twelfth Light-house District.

Rancho del Paso to Buy Ormond's Get—Boston Takes a Double Header—The Abbott Makes World's Fastest Quarter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—This has been a particularly busy day for the crews of both the American cup-defender, the Columbia, and the challenger, the Shamrock. The Shamrock's underbody is practically finished, so far as painting is concerned. The port side of the Columbia was given a coat of fresh white paint, and the starboard side will be repainted tomorrow.

The top sides of the Shamrock were painted a delicate shade of green also today, so that both craft will go into the races as they were originally painted, notwithstanding the theory that there was a loss of speed by so doing.

Among the most interested of the spectators that saw the Columbia today were Capt. Archie Hogarth and Wringe and Sallmaker Ratsy of the Shamrock.

John M. Hyslop, official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, said this afternoon that he would put the tape to the two boats next Monday.

FASTEST QUARTER TROTTER.

The Abbott Goes at Louisville in Two-Year-Old.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LOUISVILLE (Ky.), Sept. 29.—Notwithstanding the sky was cloudless, the wind seemed to be a blast from the North Pole, and the attendance at the fair grounds was not large. The racing was rather tame, being the professional kind. Three strong favorites and one outsider, Endow, were the winners. The veteran driver Ed Geers drove The Abbott a slow exhibition mile, trotting the last quarter in 29 seconds flat. That was the world's record for a quarter by a trotting horse, the best time previously being 29.34, held by Alx and Nancy Hanks. Results:

Preparation stakes, for 2-year-old trotters, value $1000: Endow won second and third heats; time 2:19.4, 2:17.4; Fresno won fourth heat in 2:20.5 and was second. Joseph N. third.

The 2:11 pace, purse $1000: Free Bond won in straight heats; time 2:10.4, 2:11; Tully Wilkes second, Wagon Paso, third. The Paul Jones purse, 2:07 pacers, value $1000: Arlington won in straight heats; time 2:08.5, 2:08.5; Eyelet second, Darlet third.

The 2:20 trot, purse $800: Lucille won in straight heats; time 2:17, 2:11.3; May C. second, Orphan Girl third.

AFTER BLOODED STICK.

Rancho del Paso Negotiating for Ormond and Others.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—There is a possibility that the Rancho del Paso will acquire Ormond, St. Carlo, Ossary and Orsini, all owned by Ormond, and the twenty brood mares now at the MacDonough ranch in San Mateo county. O. B. MacDonough admitted that negotiations were pending, but stated that no definite decision would be arrived at until next day.

The manager of Rancho del Paso, in view of the phenomenal success of the progeny of Orme, a son of Ormond, is doubtless anxious to get as much of that blood as possible for his English sales. As is generally known, the Duke of Westminster bred Ormond, and the "horse of a century" cost W. O. B. MacDonough $200,000, three-quarters of which amount was the purchase price.

EASTERN BASEBALL.

Oracles Win an Exciting Game from the Superbas.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] BALTIMORE, Sept. 29.—A base on balls, a sacrifice and a single in the ninth inning won an exciting game for the Orioles from the Superbas today. Hughes pitched in masterly style. Baltimore showed the better base running, however. The attendance was 1467. Score:

Brooklyn, 2; hits, 9; errors, 1. Baltimore, 3; hits, 7; errors, 1. Batteries—Hughes and McGuire; McGlinchey and Smith.

Umpires—Emslie and Dwyer.

NEW YORK-PHILADELPHIA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Philadelphia was outplayed at every point by New York this afternoon, and was defeated handsily. Score:

Philadelphia, 2; hits, 8; errors, 4. New York, 7; hits, 9; errors, 1. Batteries—Bernhardt and Douglas; Gettig and Warner.

Umpires—Manaster and Snyder.

BOSTON-WASHINGTON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Boston took two games today, the first by opportune hitting in the eighth inning. The attendance was 560. Score:

First game—Boston, 4; hits, 6; errors, 3. Washington, 2; hits, 7; errors, 1. Batteries—Nichols and Sullivan; Evans and Kittredge.

Second game—Boston, 6; hits, 9; errors, 4. Washington, 2; hits, 6; errors, 7. Batteries—Lewis and Sullivan; McFarland and Powers.

Umpires—Swardwood and Hunt.

ADDED SENSATIONS.

Gravesend Crowd Sees Two Horses Fall and Get Shot.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—In spite of the counter attraction of the naval parade, one of the largest crowds of the meeting was at the Gravesend track today. They got more than the usual amount of sensational features, as Abuse and St. Clair, two fair-class horses, favorites in the first and fifth races, respectively, fell and broke a leg, and had to be shot. Both belonged to Fred Foster, and were ridden by Jockey Jenkins, who escaped unhurt.

The best race of the day was the fourth, in which Pupil and Sadducee were equal favorites at 12 to 5. The won cleverly by a length and a half from Pupil, with Yellow Tail, the pacemaker, third. Results:

Selling, five furlongs: Mechanus won, Ben Hadad second, Dollie Weltforth third; time 1:01 1-5. Six furlongs, selling: The Pride won,

Peace second, Judge Wardell third; time 1:10 4-5. Mile and one-sixteenth: Standing won, Muskadine second, Peep of Day third; time 1:48 4-5. About six furlongs: Kilmarock won, Pupil second, Yellow Tail third; time 1:11. Mile and one-sixteenth, selling: Belle of Troy won, Sir Hubert second, Federal third; time 1:42 2-5. Five furlongs, selling: Boundee won, Shoreham second, Prestidigitator third; time 1:01 1-5.

SEARCHLIGHT'S FINE WORK.

Beats Frank Bogash and William Mac in Fast Heats.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), Sept. 29.—Searchlight, the great pacing stallion, won the 2:03 pace for a purse of $2500 at the State Fair today without an effort. Frank Bogash took second money and William Mac third. The track was fast, but the weather was chilly.

About 3500 persons were present. A gale was blowing up the stretch, and the horses were compelled to face it as they made the finish.

Searchlight paced the first mile in 2:04, within half a second of his record, making the first and last quarters in 0:30.4, a 2:01 gait. Frank Bogash was second in the first heat, a length behind Searchlight, with William Mac third and Indiana fourth. They were the only starters.

The second heat was just as easy for Searchlight. His time was 2:04. William Mac was beaten out for second place by Bogash, and Indiana was last.

In the third heat Searchlight led from the start, with William Mac second, Bogash third and Indiana in the rear. The time was 2:08.

Results at Harlem.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The weather was cloudy at Harlem and the track heavy.

Five furlongs: Emma M. won, Castine second, Fannie Leland third; time 1:06 1-5.

One mile and 100 yards: The Dragon won, depending second, Fred Barr third; time 1:59 1-5.

Six furlongs, selling: Moccitito won, Herolus second, Locust Blossom third; time 1:18 1-5.

Six and one-half furlongs, selling: King's Highway won, Sim W. second, Canace third; time 1:25 1-5.

Two and one-half miles, selling: Jack Bradley won, Goose Liver second, Yuba Dam third; time 4:42 1-5.

Six furlongs, selling: McAlburt won, Brown Yall second, Nannie Davis third; time 1:19 1-5.

Racing at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Results at Oakland:

Seven furlongs, selling: Rio Chico, 111 (Ruiz), 4 to 5, won; Stromo, 111 (Buchanan), 7 to 1, second; Somis, 111 (Buchanan), 10 to 1, third; time 1:29 1-5. San Augustine and Yuruba also ran.

Futurity course, maiden two-year-old, fillies, 109 (Ruiz), 2 to 7, won; Miss Madeline, 109 (Duffy), 15 to 1, second; Champion Rose, 97 (Coady), 2 to 1, third; time 1:13. Palapa, Hall-fax, Alleen B. Purnayah and Red Cherry also ran.

Six furlongs, selling: P. A. Finnegan, 109 (Frawley), 5 to 2, won; Cor-rect, 98 (J. Ward), 5 to 1, second; Spry Lark, 109 (Narvaex), 20 to 1, third; time 1:15. Grady, Boardman, Black Orphan, P. P. and also ran.

One mile, special: Ping, 109 (Stuart), 4 to 1, won; Meadow Lark, 109 (Morso), 7 to 2, second; Alicia, 98 (Devlin), 5 to 1, third; time 1:42. Petal, New Moon and Jennie Reed also ran.

Otto Knocked Out at Denver.

DENVER, Sept. 29.—Jack Daly of Chicago knocked out Billy Otto of California before the Olympic Club in the second round of a fight scheduled for twenty rounds. The men mixed it down four times in the second round, and finally put Otto with a right on the jaw. Otto was carried to his dressing-room unconscious and remained so for fifteen minutes.

Jack O'Brien Quits Tim Kearns.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Jack O'Brien of this city is now entitled to meet Frank Erne for the lightweight championship, as he whipped Tim Kearns of Boston into a state of insensibility at the New Broadway Athletic Club to night. They met for a twenty-five-round go at 133 pounds, but Kearns received his quibus in the thirteenth round, as possible for his English sales. As is generally known, the Duke of Westminster bred Ormond, and the "horse of a century" cost W. O. B. MacDonough $200,000, three-quarters of which amount was the purchase price.

Fresno's Fake Fight.

FRESNO, Sept. 29.—The fight between Joe Reay of San Francisco and Ed Hennessy of San Jose, before the Fresno Athletic Club this evening, ended in a most palpable fake. Hennessy lying down in the third round. The officers of the club refused to give the contestants the purse, and H. Butler, Reay's manager, says that he will bring suit.

Two Billy's Poor Work.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The fight between "Mysterious Billy" Smith and Billy Swift of Chicago was declared a draw, after six rounds of very poor work by both men.

PRINT CLOTH COMBINE.

Much Uncertainty as to the Outcome of Pending Negotiations.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The Tribune says that much uncertainty prevails as to the prospect for the combination of print cloth mills. Two of the three syndicates which within the last few months have been endeavoring to effect the consolidation of the New England mills have abandoned negotiations, but the third, represented by Nelson G. Green of this city, is still in the field.

The New England mill owners have within the last few days renewed the price agreement for the sale of their output, but this agreement which is usually for six months, is this time to run only to January 1, on which date, it is said, Green's options become effective. It is understood that the plans of the Green syndicate contemplate the formation of a great corporation, with a capital of $200,000,000 to embrace all the print cloth mills both in the North and South.

Thomas Branch & Co., bankers of Richmond, Va., who have secured options on a large number of important southern mills, have just made a contract with a local syndicate, headed by Charles B. Flint, whereby the syndicate will furnish all the capital necessary for the purchase of the mills and their consolidation into a company with a capital of perhaps $100,000,000. It was rumored yesterday that this consolidation might prove to be only part of a general combination plan with which Mr. Green's name has heretofore been associated.

DEWEY'S PORTRAIT PRESENTED.

While the Iron is Hot.

Great Bargains in Pianos Still Continue to be the Order of the Day at Southern California Music Co.

The town thrills with the extraordinary and sensational news of this great piano sale. While we expected a splendid and liberal response to our wonderful bargain offers, when this sale opened on Monday morning we had no conception of the number of people who could be induced to buy a piano if the prices were only made low enough.

Our great success with this sale the past five days moves us to larger and more splendid generosity. We can afford to sell pianos cheap considering the almost ridiculous price at which we purchased the Fisher stock. It is a matter of business with us to let these magnificent instruments go at the same ratio which we paid for them.

Friends and customers, people of Southern California and the great Southwest, we wish to emphasize every word that appears in our public announcements with a series of exclamations. You cannot read the story of this sale too closely if you or your friends have the remotest idea of buying a piano any time in the near future.

Not only are we offering pianos at the greatest sacrifice in price ever known, but every musical instrument, large or small, in our entire establishment strikes an answering chord in the price. It would not do for us to merely sell pianos cheap—everything must harmonize—everything does harmonize. Violins, Music Boxes, Graphophones, Banjos, Guitars, Zithers and all kinds of wind and string instruments, at prices that will interest every musician within the reach of this store. Our advice is to strike while the iron is hot, for never will you have another such opportunity to buy musical instruments at present prices.

[DISASTER.]THE SCOTSMAN'S DEAD.

STEAMER MONTFORT BRINGS NEWS OF THE WRECK.

Fifteen Passengers Known to Have Perished—Crew of the Ill-fated Vessel Invaluable Passengers and Sack the Ship-Terrible Hardships Suffered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—Two hundred and fifty scantily-clad, baggage-bereft men, women and children were on board of an intercolonial special steamed into Bonaventure depot to night. They composed the greater number of those who sailed from Liverpool on September 15 on board the steamship Scotsman, bound for Montserrat, which was wrecked on the shore of the Straits of Belle Isle at 2:30 o'clock on the morning of the 21st. It was not only a tale of shipwreck that they had to tell, but one of death, suffering and pillage, for fifteen at least of the Scotsman's passengers perished, all suffered cruelly from cold and privation, and almost the worst horror of all, the men who were supposed to succor and assist those committed to their care, in the hour of need, turned on the helpless passengers and with loaded guns and revolvers, compelled them to part with the few valuables saved.

Capt. Skrimshire and his officers were exceptions. For the honor of the British merchant marine the crime may not be ascribed to the men engaged in it, but to a sack of wharf-rats and hangers-on, picked up on the docks at Liverpool to replace the usual crew of the Scotsman, which joined the seamen's strike on the other side.

The list of those who perished is as follows: First-class passengers: MRS. STEER, Montreal.

MRS. CHILDS, wife of the stage manager of the Sign of the Cross Company.

MRS. ROBERTS and infant.

MRS. SCOTT.

MRS. ROBINSON, wife of the manager of the Sunlight Soap Company of Toronto.

TAKING THE FIELD.

ORDERS HAVE GONE OUT TO BOER COMMANDERS.

President Kruger has said that the law would be proclaimed today or Monday—London expects some over act.

Meeting of British Cabinet brings no satisfaction to the peace people—Joubert issues a warning circular.

Artillery Reserves Called Out at Pretoria—Orange Free State Road Passes a Commando Law. Talk With Oom Paul.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 29.—[By South African Cable.] There is great excitement in consequence of orders to the commanders to take the field. Part of the Johannesburg corps will assemble today. Dispatch riders have gone to the front.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Morning Post at Johannesburg sends the following: "A government official who has just returned from Pretoria, where he saw President Kruger, assures me that martial law will be proclaimed tomorrow (Saturday) or Monday next."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Daily Mail publishes the following dispatch from Johannesburg, Natal: "Commandant Gen. Joubert and his staff have arrived at Wakkerstroom, where 300 Boers are already assembled with artillery. A force of burghers was detained today about two miles from the Natal border."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 30.—In a few words, the position as left by yesterday's Cabinet council is that President Kruger has been given another breathing spell, and that another council will probably be called Tuesday to give final consent to the dispatch which Lord Salisbury and Chamberlain are engaged in drafting, and which will formulate the British demands.

A London friend of President Kruger has cabled, advising him to reject the British proposals, as there is no desire on the part of England to take away Boer independence, and a failure to comply will mean war. To this President Kruger replied: "It is impossible to act on the lines desired without losing our independence."

POSSIBLE BOER INITIATIVE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 30.—Indications this evening lead to the belief that, in view of the Cabinet message, the Boers will probably commit an overt act which will bring on hostilities before the assembling of Parliament. All the latest dispatches from the Transvaal show the liveliest activity on the part of the burghers. Telegrams from Pretoria announce that artillery is being rapidly loaded at the station for the front, and that military trains have been ordered on all lines. The Cape mail is delayed in consequence of the large amount of rolling stock reserved for the forces.

A large number of burghers left yesterday for Middleburg. Detachments of cyclists are being distributed among the different commands. It is understood that the first contingent of the Pretoria forces will leave for the eastern border tomorrow.

Commandant General Joubert yesterday addressed a crowd of burghers at the Pretoria station. His remarks were loudly cheered. The officers of the main corps left for the front today, and the Hollanders corps paraded in the principal square of Pretoria and saluted President Kruger.

NATAL ADVICES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) CAPE TOWN, Sept. 29.—A dispatch from Glencoe, Natal, says:

"Telegraphic communication between here and the Transvaal is temporarily interrupted. This is supposed to have been caused by a thunderstorm. The camp is free from sickness, and patrols are regular, especially in the direction of De laager's farm. It is understood where the Boers are reported to be laagered. The greatest enthusiasm prevails."

"The second movement of troops from Ladysmith to Dundee was carefully concealed and expeditiously carried out. The townspeople only knew of the maneuvers by the presence of the troops. It is stated here that the burghers have requested permission to either return to their farms, or raid Natal."

A telegram from Volksrust says that it is reported that the Boers intend to take up a position at Schinons Hodge, falling back on Laing's Neck if forced to do so.

MULES AND FORAGE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—Major Scobel of the British army has chartered the steamship Mount Royal, making the third transport; closed another contract for mules and placed the first order for grain and forage; the army supplies to be sent to the Transvaal, South Africa.

BOERS' WAR MEASURES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) PRETORIA, Sept. 29.—The government has issued notice of the measures to be observed in the event of war. The mines may continue working, reasonable protection being afforded. The liquor trade is prohibited and special police will maintain order. The Rand gold produced during the war is to be deposited with the government, who will mint therefrom sufficient to pay the working expenses. The rest will be returned after the war. Strict passport regulations have also been provided for.

CIRCULAR BY JOUBERT.

Special Instructions to Prevent Any Compromising Acts.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The following circular has been transmitted to the War Department by the United States Consul at Pretoria, and is of interest at this time:

"To Commandants, field cornets and assistant field cornets:

"OFFICE OF THE COMMANDANT-GENERAL, Pretoria, August 24, 1899.

"Sir: In consequence of certain complaints having come to the notice of the government, that British subjects or Englishmen, have been commanded by certain officers and officials, or notified to hold themselves in readiness with horse, saddle and bridle, guns and ammunition, and that notice has been given to merchants and dealers, by some officials, that their shops and places must be closed, and also that British subjects have been forbidden by them to export or sell for the purpose of exporting horses, etc. I have hereby the honor to give you special instructions, and to urgently forbid your doing any act which might compromise us and bring us into collision with any other power. It thus must be understood that no single alien, no matter what his nationality, who does not voluntarily offer, or has not offered his services, may be called upon or commanded in the event of unexpected or undesirable disturbances of war."

"Guard against everything that can do harm or provoke unrest, and take care that you do not act contrary to the terms of this circular, except on further special instruction from the government."

"I have the honor to be, (Signed) "P. J. JOUBERT, "Commandant-General."

BRITISH CABINET MEETING.

Chamberlain Reported by Boers to Have Increased His Demands.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The meeting of the British Cabinet, on whose deliberations practically hangs war or peace in South Africa, began at 11 o'clock this morning. President Kruger's reply to the last note of the imperial government has not been received, and will be the pivot of today's discussion.

The Cabinet adjourned at 3:15 p.m. The Ministers were heartily cheered by the waiting crowds. It is said from Boer sources that Chamberlain's proposals submitted to the Cabinet include an indemnity for the cost of sending out troops, the disarmament of the Transvaal, the suppression of Dr. Ley's legislation, judicature and legislative independence for the judges, the equality of the English and Dutch languages, and for and complete admission of the supremacy of British interests throughout South Africa.

A dispatch from Cape Town, cabled to the Associated Press, gives the leading place in the afternoon papers. While it is too brief to give an adequate idea of the Transvaal attitude, the impression it produced was rather favorable than otherwise.

Dispatches from the Cape continue the story of military activity in the Transvaal, Natal and Cape Colony. The Boers are concentrating in the country contiguous to Natal, where the first outbreak of hostilities is likely to occur. Large contingents of burghers are converging from various parts on this probable battlefield. The commandant-general has issued a notice calling the commanders to assemble at a specified spot on the Natal border. The commanders from Krugersdorp, whose burghers checked the Jameson raiders, will embark on trains for the frontier tonight.

There is great activity at the War Office at Pretoria. The artillery reserves have been called out; the arrangements to defend the frontier are being completed, and the work of equipment is proceeding rapidly. The burghers are congregating in the towns, ready to join their commands, which, however, have strict orders not to approach too near the frontier, and to avoid a collision with the British forces. The Boer forces are gathering at their base of action, short distance from the border, such as Hartswater, Volksrust, Vryheid and Bremersdorp.

From Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, it is said on reliable authority that, at a secret session, the Raad has passed a stringent commando law. The burghers who have left the Orange Free State recently have been ordered to return in default of £500 fine, or imprisonment and the confiscation of their property. Provisions of the law are more particular of the movements of a minor character, but all pointing to preparations to defend the frontier in the event of a war until a sufficient force is assembled to take the offensive.

TALK WITH KRUGER.

A dispatch to the Times from Pretoria says: "It is generally expected that a state of war will be proclaimed at any moment. President Kruger granted me an interview today, and declared he had done all possible for the sake of peace. He had accepted Mr. Chamberlain's own offer of a commission of inquiry, but Mr. Chamberlain deliberately broke the thread of negotiations, and troops were massed on all sides, and war was forced upon him."

"It was impossible to accede to the dispatch of the 12th. Such a course would have given the land and people into the hands of strangers. As it was, his seven-years' proposal would, according to the field cornet, books, or franchise fifty thousand persons, which was more than the whole number of the old burghers, yet not one has come forward to take it. The Boers never really wanted the franchise. From the first they refused to go on the commandos, and registered themselves as aliens. Afterward Lord Loch secured exemption for them on the same terms as the Portuguese. He wished to indemnify Mr. Chamberlain's charge that he had broken his promise made during the discussion preceding the Pretoria convention of 1881, that he would treat new immigrants equally with the old burghers. He had always been ready to treat them so, and they had always responded accordingly."

"In conclusion I asked him if there was still a possibility of peace."

"No," he replied, adding after a pause, "unless the other side will do something to make peace possible."

The correspondent adds that perhaps it is worth pointing out that the commando in question did not occur until 1894, after the franchise had been restricted by the law of 1891, "which makes it difficult to see how the former should accept the latter."

The Pall Mall Gazette says it understands that Mr. Chamberlain submitted a dispatch to the British Council today, containing the following demands on the Transvaal:

First—Five years' franchise qualification without bearing conditions.

Second—Municipal self-government at Johannesburg on a freely-elected basis.

Third—The separation of the judiciary from the executive, and its independence of Volksraad.

Fourth—The abolition of the dynamite monopoly.

Fifth—The removal of the fort dominating Johannesburg, though the defense of Pretoria may remain.

Sixth—The teaching of the English language in the schools.

PARLIAMENT IS WANTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Free Press edition this evening said: "Parliament will be summoned by royal proclamation is expected to reassemble in about three weeks. The government desires a clear expression of approval by the Legislature on the policy now being pursued in South Africa, as well as to the necessary financial legislation."

The Premier and most of the Cabinet Ministers returned home after the council.

It was said this evening that the batch of South African cablegrams re-

Miss Lockheart's LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 67,104.]

"I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I have taken five bottles of the Compound and two boxes of Liver Pills and feel better than ever before. I had suffered for years with dropsy; the veins in my limbs burst, caused from the pressure of the water. I had the worst kind of kidney trouble, fainting spells, and I could not stand long at a time. I also had female weakness and the doctor said there was a tumor in my left side. The pains I had to stand were something dreadful. A friend handed me a little book of yours, so I got your medicine and it has saved my life. I felt better from the first bottle. The bloating and the tumors have all gone and I do not suffer any pain. I am still using the Vegetable Compound and hope others may find relief as I have done from its use."

MISS N. J. LOCKHEART, Box 16, ELIZABETH, PA.

Only the women who have suffered with female troubles can fully appreciate the gratitude of those who have been restored to health.

ceived at the Colonial Office this morning did not contain President Kruger's reply, as supposed, but referred to other matters. The Cabinet therefore was unable to discuss the reply.

A RUSSIAN HINT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—Discussing the attitude of Germany in regard to the Transvaal crisis, the Russia says: "It is still an open question as to whether Russian diplomacy on the basis of The Hague conference may not make the experiment of recommending that Great Britain and the Transvaal have recourse to a court of arbitration. In view of the hostile feeling against Great Britain it is very possible that the Russian government from Europe will go to the aid of the Boers, as Russian volunteers aided Serbia in Great Britain's attempt to prevent such a movement, Russia perhaps will speak a decisive word."

AUSTRALIAN VOLUNTEERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) MELBOURNE (Victoria), Sept. 29.—A conference of the military commandants of all the colonies except New Zealand is sitting here to discuss the equipment and dispatch of an Australian force to South Africa. Volunteers are coming forward largely from all the colonies. About fourteen hundred Victorians have already volunteered.

EXCITEMENT AT DURBAN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) DURBAN, Sept. 29.—The summoning of the volunteers has caused widespread excitement. The men responded readily, and 800 troops with numerous guns will entrain tomorrow.

LOWERING WAR CLOUDS.

Extensive War Preparations Going on at Pretoria and Elsewhere.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) LONDON, Sept. 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A squadron of British cruisers is gathered at Cape Town. Advice from the interior of South Africa indicates that the situation is becoming quiet and there is no sign of trouble. This is reassuring as it was feared that some of the tribes in Zululand and elsewhere were becoming restless. The arrivals at Durban, Natal, from the Rand are diminishing. Tents have been pitched on the beach to accommodate the refugees.

It is announced from Kimberley that a former Mayor has called a meeting of the townsmen to protest against the action of their countrymen at home, who, he says, are under a complete misapprehension supporting "the cause of tyranny in the Transvaal."

The British colonies in Rhodesia are organizing a volunteer corps, have formed a cycle detachment and are constructing an armored train with an engine pulled by steel rails. Refugees from the Rand continue to arrive at Newcastle, Natal, where earthworks are being raised.

Rains are reported in the north of Natal. Farmers within the probable fighting zone are sending for stock south. In Aliwal, in the northern district, a violent appeal from the well-known Boer field cornet, Viljoer, has been distributed.

A telegram received today says two batteries of field artillery and 500 burghers have started for Volksrust, and that another 500 men go there today. The streets at Pretoria present a scene of great military animation. Armed burghers and army men are riding about, the field cornets being engaged in warning the burghers to be in readiness at a moment's notice.

A quantity of ammunition for Maxim guns is reported to have arrived at Harrismith and the burghers at Bremersdorp are practicing with the Maxim guns. A number of young Boers who have been studying at Cape Town, have started for home. The Volksraad, in secret session, has passed a high treason law, providing for the confiscation of the property of burghers who refuse service. The proposition was submitted to make the confiscation retroactive so as to include certain millionaires, but it was rejected.

A dispatch from Johannesburg reports a meeting of the wholesale and retail merchants there to consider the steps to be taken for the protection of the town. The chairman said he had been informed that the government did not intend to expel the British subjects in the event of war. A resolution was passed in favor of forming a guard composed of merchants, property-owners and others, and empowering a committee to procure funds to carry on the municipal government.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Times cables: "A Free State proclamation has been issued, prohibiting the export of live stock, grain and provisions. Colberg and other places in Cape Colony, near the Free State, are known to be extremely distressed. The English are daily threatened, and some of them are going southwards for safety. I have accumulated evidence that it is not mere street talk, but that there is a bona fide belief among the Dutch that the Boers can beat England."

A prominent Free State says: "We are sorry for your soldiers. Our burghers will walk over them like sheep over the veldt."

"Another Free State said: 'You may have an even chance with us if you send 100,000 men, not 10,000.'"

"A Dutch lady of the southwest portion of the colony writes to a friend: 'When Paul Kruger has beaten the English and taken the Colony, I wonder will he conquer England, too?'"

A cablegram from Durban, Natal, contains the suggestive news that the Natal field artillery, light infantry and mounted rifles have been ordered to proceed to the Lady Smith district forthwith. Considerable satisfaction was expressed in official circles at the Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued to take it, and completely building up my health and increasing my appetite. Alas! that it is not more strictly talked, but that there is a bona fide belief among the Dutch that the Boers can beat England."

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

"Twenty acres of forest ruined by fire on the San Creek trail in San Bernardino county" and "Five miles square of the choicest timber lands of Smith Mountain, in San Diego county," together with scattered fires in other places in the Coast Range, and not one arrest yet recorded by the authorities! This latter fact would indicate that in the government reservation the members of the patrol are very unfortunate in being somewhere else when the fires are started, or that they have a false conception of their duty. As a matter of fact, the fire which destroyed the timber lands of Smith Mountain, in San Diego county, together with scattered fires in other places in the Coast Range, and not one arrest yet recorded by the authorities! This latter fact would indicate that in the government reservation the members of the patrol are very unfortunate in being somewhere else when the fires are started, or that they have a false conception of their duty. As a matter of fact, the fire which destroyed the timber lands of Smith Mountain, in San Diego county, together with scattered fires in other places in the Coast Range, and not one arrest yet recorded by the authorities! This latter fact would indicate that in the government reservation the members of the patrol are very unfortunate in being somewhere else when the fires are started, or that they have a false conception of their duty.

An effective proof of faith in the future of this section is given by the action of several families who have recently moved onto a vast stretch of land between San Pedro and Redondo that has hitherto been used solely for grazing purposes. The only possibility of making the land pay lies in a plentiful rainfall, and these people have faith the fall will be sufficient. As against the croak of the drone the gradual absorption of all available spots of arable land tells a story of stability and prosperity such as desirable home-seekers are apt to be swayed by. These people are hauling feed and general sustenance to this land and are facing the problem of success from untoward circumstances in a manner to compel admiration. Such men as such undertakings have made Southern California possible.

At Santa Barbara the master of a coastwise steamer reported on Thursday that he sighted the long, slender, raft off Port Harford, in tow for that place! This is very good news to all who are interested in marine traffic, and especially so to those responsible for passengers. For weeks the whole fabric of the Pacific merchant marine has been shaken by the fact that this dread derelict was off our coast, directly in the path of commerce. In a legal sense nothing short of special Federal legislation can stop this method of shipping lumber, and it is now more than probable that the underwriters of the Coast will take some competent measures to render a repetition of this raft a misdemeanor. That coastwise wrecks have not been many, with great loss of life, is not the fault of the projectors of the raft.

The Times, ever alert to foster good throughout Southern California, notes with pleasure the heroic action of the City Trustees of San Pedro in ordering the City Attorney to draw up an ordinance "prohibiting the operation of gambling machines, both those that pay winnings in cash, and those that pay in merchandise." The authorities found that a restrictive measure was worse than no measure, as has been held in these columns, for the primary reason that men who will engage in the handling of these robbing devices will take advantage when and where they can. Eight licenses have been granted under existing ordinances, all of which must be revoked, and then this beautiful city, with all her great natural advantages, can reach out for, and expect to obtain, overwhelming and deserved success. This is a timely example for other towns.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

MRS. NELLIE EALSES WOUNDED BY HER BROTHER.

William Buck Threatened to Kill Himself and a Bullet from His Gun Hit His Sister's Leg—A Murderer.

A report was received at the Police Station yesterday afternoon that a man had shot and killed a woman in East Los Angeles, and that the body of the latter was at John R. Paul's undertaking establishment.

A police officer and several reporters hurried to the scene, but in their arrival it was learned that the shooting was accidental, and not very serious, the wound inflicted being of a superficial character. The facts in the case are as follows:

Mrs. Mary A. Buck, a widow, died of consumption between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family residence, No. 1223 Downey avenue. Undertaker John R. Paul was summoned to take charge of the remains. Mrs. Nellie Ealses, a daughter of the dead woman, objected to the body being removed to the undertaker's establishment, and the latter began preparations for holding the funeral at the house.

William E. Buck, a son of the dead woman, was in the kitchen. As a result of his long vigil at the bedside of his mother and grief over her condition, he had attempted to drown his sorrow with liquor. After his mother's death yesterday afternoon he was in a high state of nervous excitement.

After the funeral instructions to Mr. Paul, Mrs. Ealses left the undertaker and went into the kitchen to see her brother. She had been gone only a few minutes when Mr. Paul heard a shot, followed by the exclamation: "Oh, William, you've killed me!"

Paul rushed into the room and asked Mrs. Ealses if she had been shot, and in reply the latter showed a bullet wound in her leg. When Mrs. Ealses entered the kitchen her brother was just taking a revolver from a shelf, with which he threatened to kill himself. The weapon is a .44-caliber bull-dog, double-action, hammerless revolver. Mrs. Ealses grabbed the barrel of the weapon to prevent her brother from carrying out his threat. During the struggle the gun exploded, the ball passing through the fleshy part of Mrs. Ealses' left leg on the outside, near the thigh.

E. Sample, an employe of Mr. Paul, started out in search of a surgeon, and on the way met Officer Paul. The officer went into the house and took Buck to the East Side Police Station, leaving him in charge of Sergeant McKee. While the matter was being investigated, later, Buck was sent to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. His nerves were strung to the highest tension, and it was feared that while in this condition he would again attempt some act of violence. At the hospital he was put to bed and treated last night under the direction of Police Surgeon Hagan.

Dr. Yoet was summoned to attend the injuries of Mrs. Ealses. The latter's husband is a mining man, and has been absent in the Klondike country for the past two years. Mrs. Ealses is a housewife making her home with her mother.

WHAT IT HAS COST.

County School Board Claims Aggregate $1604.80.

Now that the District Attorney has decided that it is no part of the duties of the County Board of Education to review the examination papers submitted for promotion in the schools, it may be of interest to taxpayers to reckon what the board has cost the county, while it has been performing this unnecessary and unauthorized work. An examination of the claims for salaries and mileage filed by the members of the board with the County Supervisors since the work began, July 1 to September 28, shows an aggregate of $1604.80.

During a portion of this time two members of the board, W. H. Wright and J. J. Morgan, have also been teaching in the public schools of the county, and it is to be presumed expect to draw their pay for such work. Mr. Wright began work in the San Gabriel school September 18, and Mr. Morgan assumed his duties as principal of the Covina school the same day. Since that time they have been attending to their school work during the day and have spent their evenings at the board room reviewing examination papers. Their claims for salaries and mileage while engaged in school board work have continued to be filed regularly with the Supervisors.

There is some difference of opinion as to whether these two enterprising members of the school board are entitled to draw double salaries from the county. The matter will probably come up for judicial decision when the bills are presented to Auditor Nichols for collection. The District Attorney, when asked about the matter yesterday, refused to make any statement regarding the course that would be followed by his office.

Luther Brown, president of the board by grace of a political deal, is quoted as having said, after the opinion was rendered, that the board had been working only on graduation papers and had not taken teachers to task on promotion examinations. The fact is quite otherwise. The board has reviewed motion papers and notified teachers to postpone organization of classes. The members of the board have presented demands for pay for the work that Mr. Brown says they have not done. The people who support the public schools and pay Mr. Brown's salary have not yet availed themselves of his gracious permission to "go to hell," but are remaining on earth to watch the queer proceedings of the County Board of Education.

VICIOUS TRAMP KILLED.

SHOT AT ORANGE BY A SANTA ANA POLICEMAN.

Warns Gun Fight Between Officers and Hobos in Little Jail—Herbert Glover of Illinois the Dead Man—Burglar.

A vicious tramp was shot at Orange about midnight Thursday night by Officer Jim Murray of Santa Ana, who had gone to that place to assist Deputy Sheriff Will Bush in taking a brace of tough hobos to the Orange county jail. Bush had arrested the hobos early in the evening, and after searching them and finding considerable stolen hardware upon their persons, locked them up in the little old coop of a jail, and as both were considered bad men, he telephoned over to Santa Ana for assistance in transferring them from Orange to that city. Officer Murray responded, and upon arrival at Orange he and Bush proceeded to the jail to get the prisoners. Just before reaching this somewhat improvised structure the officers heard the tramps prying the door off its hinges. They were called to and told to stop that work. By this time the officers had arrived at the building, and Deputy Sheriff Bush proceeded to unlock the door and open it.

As the door opened both tramps threw their guns into the very faces of the officers and began firing and cursing. The first bullet grazed the head of Bush and he fell to the ground from the effect of the shock. Murray threw his weight against the door, at the same time pulling the gun and opening fire upon the assaulting hobos within. His first shot evidently took effect, although both the tramps kept up an incessant firing. By this time Bush had recovered somewhat from the shock he had received and opened fire, the bullets plunging into the door very close to the strained form of Murray, who was endeavoring to keep the door closed against the combined force of the two men on the inside. Murray finally succeeded in forcing the door shut, when one of the men called out that they would surrender, and accordingly passed out their weapons, a 44-caliber army pistol and a new 38-caliber automatic hammerless revolver.

The door was then reopened and the men ordered out, when it was ascertained that one of them had been shot. When examined the fellow was found to have been hit in the abdomen, the ball having entered on the left side and lodged just under the skin on the right side. Both were taken to Santa Ana and lodged in the County Jail. It was soon ascertained that the wound inflicted upon one of the men was mortal, and when told this the fellow said that his true name was Herbert Glover, and that his home was in Springfield, Ill., where his father and mother are living at the present time. He also said that he had an uncle, G. C. Glover, living at National City, San Diego county. He gave his partner's name as John Leonard, and said that he hailed from Flagstaff, Ariz. Leonard refused to talk about the shooting or the history of either himself or his wounded partner. Glover began sinking rapidly about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and at 11:45 a.m. died.

These men are now known to be the parties who robbed a hardware and a second-hand store at San Bernardino less than a week ago. The Santa Ana officers had been informed that the stolen and a portion of the hardware was found upon their persons when they were arrested. They are also the same men who were seen on a Santa Fe freight conductor last Thursday morning near Fullerton when they were ordered off his train. They are believed to be hardened criminals traveling about the country disguised as tramps. The men had small sums of money on their persons when arrested, and both had almost new razors in leather cases, strapped about their necks. They claimed that there was not a third man in their party; that they had the guns on their persons when the Orange officer searched them, but he did not find the weapons. This, Deputy Sheriff Bush says, is not true. He claims to have searched them thoroughly, and he is sure that an outside third partner passed the weapons in to them after they were locked up in the little jail.

It has only been a few years since Officer Morgan killed a tramp in Santa Ana for resisting arrest, and a little later "Blackie No. 1" got a bullet in the heel for attempting to escape from jail while he was being escorted to the County Jail. The Santa Ana officers have not come to the conclusion that it is not safe to take very big chances with the criminal element, and they are governing themselves accordingly, all of which seems to be meeting with the hearty approval of the public.

An inquest was held on Glover's remains yesterday afternoon and the coroner's jury exonerated Officer Murray from all blame in the case, and he was fully justified in killing the tramp.

CLAYTON HELD TO ANSWER.

He Wanted to Fix Rogers as Alford Did Hunter.

The preliminary examination of J. J. Clayton in Justice Morgan's court yesterday afternoon resulted in his being held to answer to the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Bail was fixed at $2000, in default of which he was committed to the custody of the Sheriff.

Clayton is the man who held up the clerks in the office of Earl Rogers, Esq., with a revolver, and subsequently knocked Rogers into insensibility with a blow of his fist. A week's imprisonment has done Clayton a great deal of good. He had been drinking heavily for months, and this is the first time in years, probably, that he has got alcohol thoroughly out of his system.

F. W. Thompson, a clerk in Rogers's office, testified that Clayton came into the office a week ago with the avowed purpose of "fixing" Rogers in the way Alford did Hunter, because he said Rogers owed him money which he would not pay. Thompson related in detail how Clayton covered him with a revolver, and said he had a mind to kill him while he was waiting for Rogers to come in. When W. J. Jory, another clerk, came in, Clayton also compelled him to sit down and keep quiet on pain of being shot. In the course of an hour Rogers came in, and was confronted with Clayton's revolver, but succeeded in turning it aside, and took refuge in his inner office, from which he passed out $10 to Thompson to give to Clayton, so he would go. Thompson got Clayton out of the office by telling him he would buy him a drink. On the stairs they met Sgt. Morton, who took Clayton into custody. Rogers followed the officers and prisoner to the Police Station, where Clayton knocked Rogers down and out with a blow on the chin while standing in front of the clerk's desk.

Rogers, Jory, F. S. Stoddard and Sgt. Morton testified to the same effect. Clayton cross-examined the witnesses for the prosecution in an able manner, but failed to shake their testimony. He called Walter Raymond and Dr. M. Johnson, R. R. Dorsey and D. Fitzgerald to testify in his behalf. Raymond gave unimpaired testimony as to remarks made by Rogers when he recovered consciousness in the receiving hospital after his knockout. Clayton expected the physicians to testify that he was sorely afflicted with heart disease, but they all agreed that such infirmities as he had were produced by alcoholism. Clayton appears to be a confirmed hypochondriac. Although a boiler-maker by trade, and a man of excellent physique, he has refrained from work for several years on account of alleged infirmities, which the doctors say he does not have. It is the general belief that enforced abstinence from drink will restore him to good health, and will probably make him of some use to his family.

A second charge of assault to commit murder is pending against Clayton, on account of the Rogers incident, but it will not be pressed until the first is finally disposed of.

STATE WATER STORAGE.

Conference Called for October 7 to Plan for United Action.

The conservation of the waters of the State will be discussed at a conference to be held at the Chamber of Commerce October 7, at which will be present the members of local commercial organizations to meet representative San Franciscans interested in providing some method for water storage. The meeting will be called to order at 2 p.m. and all persons interested in irrigation will be welcomed.

The following statement prepared by the San Francisco delegation gives a succinct outline of existing conditions and the remedial plans proposed:

First—The future of the State of California depends upon the storage of its winter waters.

Second—It would be useless to apply further to the national government for general assistance in such a matter. The national government may aid in the storage of the winter waters of those rivers which are defined as "navigable;" it may aid us by detailing officers from its board of engineers to assist us in the work; but we cannot expect it to invest its capital or take up the work generally. It refuses to treat the question other than a local one, and if we wait to have the work done by the national government, we will all die before any progress is made.

Third—The State of California should take up the question as a State government; assume control of the flood waters of the State; impound such waters and distribute them in low seasons at reasonable rates.

Fourth—It is perfectly practicable for the State to construct all the necessary storage reservoirs and distributing works, by the issue of interest-bearing bonds and to pay the interest and the sinking fund necessary to redeem such bonds out of: (a) the income to be derived from the sale of water; (b) the income to be derived from the sale of power; and (c) the income to be derived from the increased taxable valuation of the property of the citizens of the State.

Fifth—That San Francisco, as the largest tax-paying community in the State, should take the initiative in putting such a plan into practical operation; that it should convince the people resident in the country that it recognizes the fact that its very existence depends upon the success of the country, and that it is willing to assume a large share of the burden which will result in direct benefit to the residents of the country.

Sixth—That a convention should be called at an early date, to be held in San Francisco, the delegates to be selected as representative men from the cities and towns of the State, such as San Diego, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Bakersfield, Visalia, Modesto, Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Fresno, etc.

Seventh—That this convention should request the Governor of the State to make a formal request upon the State University to investigate and report to the Governor, at as early a date as possible, the location and description of the available reservoir sites in the State, and the maximum cost of construction of storage reservoirs and distributing canals at and appurtenant to each reservoir site.

Eighth—That upon response of the University of California that it has not the available means to make such examination and report (which response will be inevitable) the appropriate committees of such convention provide the means through: (a) private subscriptions; (b) popular subscriptions collected through the public press of the State; and (c) subscriptions from appropriations which may be made by the various boards of supervisors under the present existing laws.

Ninth—That upon the receipt of such report, the same, or liberal extracts from the same, be published and circulated among the voters of the State for the purpose of educating them up to the proposition that the State can afford to issue bonds and construct the necessary storage reservoirs and distributing works in question.

Tenth—That the appropriate committees, appointed by such convention, secure from the national and State Legislatures the necessary amendments to existing acts of Congress and statutes of the State to carry the plan into effect.

Eleventh—That an organized campaign be made for the purpose of securing from the citizens of the State the necessary votes to secure the issue of the bonds necessary to carry the plan into effect.

Twelfth—That the convention, each year, meet thereafter, and appropriate committees thereof, keep close watch over the construction of these reservoir sites and distributing works, and the purpose of preventing theft and dishonesty, so commonly an adjunct to public works.

Ostriches from Hawaii.

There will arrive in Los Angeles shortly a consignment of eleven ostriches en route from the Hawaiian Islands to the Ostrich Farm at Pasadena. These birds, which are gigantic compared with the average specimen, are descended from a group of ostriches sent to the islands from Africa some ten years ago. They thrived exceedingly well in the tropical latitude, but the recent volcanic eruptions there destroyed a number of the flock, and the remaining birds were purchased for the local farm.

They reached San Francisco yesterday and stood the trip remarkably well. The new arrivals will form the nucleus of another large ostrich flock, and the California establishment will be the only rival to the immense farms owned and controlled by a New York syndicate, that practically monopolizes the traffic.

Lectures on Popular Books.

Commencing Sunday afternoon, Rev. Leonard Garver of Hayward, this State, will give a series of lectures on popular books under the general title of "Life Lessons from Literature." The lectures will be under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. On Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock, Mr. Garver will speak upon "Charles M. Sheldon's famous book, 'In His Steps, as They Would Live by the Golden Rule.'" The following week will speak upon "Jean Valjean," a character study in "Leaves of Grass," by Mr. Hyde, or the Dual Nature of Man. The Christian, or Success and Failure, and "Silas Marner, or the Transformation Power of Love." The Sunday afternoon meeting will be for men, but the evening meetings will be open to all. Admission tickets can be obtained free at the Young Men's Christian Association.

Attorney Frank F. Davis Will Get His Money Back—Marital Woes of the Wyches End in Divorce.

The oil contest has been begun and yesterday the Mayor and members of the Council visited the district near Sunset Park at the invitation of speculators who are drilling wells near there. The well of Clark & Bryan, that was at one time thought to be inside, proves to be about three feet outside of the line as established by the City Engineer.

The Police Commissioner Parker is within the limit, and although he claims that he got inside innocently and has been done an injustice, men are at work putting down a second and third well on the same property. While the farce goes merrily on, the City Engineer is busy with the oil contest. The oil inspector filed official information with the City Attorney regarding the violation of the ordinance by Commissioner Parker and he will probably be arrested on the complaint today.

The probability is that the school bonds for $200,000 will be voted for sale and the Council will pass for the issuance of $2,000,000 worth of water bonds by action of the Council next Monday.

The Battery D boys who applied to the Police Commission for appointment on the police force as special policemen will be assigned to duty there by the commission before they have an opportunity to wear the star of the Los Angeles police department.

The Board of Public Works will recommend to the Council on Monday that Cottage Place, an alley fourteen feet in width running between Ninth and Tenth streets, be abandoned for what is now known as Figueroa street, and all rights of the city to the property be transferred to the Board of Public Works.

INSPECT THE WELLS.

MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL VISIT THE OIL FIELDS.

Speculators Take a Talli-ho Party to Sunset Park—School and Water Bonds Will Soon Be Issued.

That there will be another sharp and bitter contest over oil development in the vicinity of Westlake and Sunset parks is evident. The oil speculators, who put in from ten to twenty wells on a block and line their pathway with a forest of tall, greasy derricks, have worked gradually up to and over the line designed to protect these parks and are now laying plans to get another slice cut off from the present reservation. This action the speculators hope will be taken by the Council, thus relieving them of the expense of meeting the validity of the ordinance in the courts.

At the request of Clark & Bryan of the Westlake Oil Company, and Le Grand Parker of the Police Commission, who is heavy operator in the field near Sunset Park, a party composed of Mayor Eaton, Councilmen Lauer, Fessell, Blanchard, and Baker; Police Commissioner Parker; and Messrs. Thomas Hughes, Wesley Clark, and representatives of the press, yesterday visited the field. The talli-ho and six was driven first to Sunset Park, and then to the oil wells, which are near the limit established by the Council. The object of the trip was to explain to the members of the Council the Mayor's alleged injustice which is being done in that section to the oil interests.

care is different. At the well now being bored by W. L. Hardison, just east of the latter part, there is a pump-hole full of the black, sticky liquid that as soon as the rains come will flow into the middle of the park. This may or may not matter so long as the park is unimproved, but if the city contemplates improving the property, wells in the vicinity would prove a grave menace. It is also claimed by members of the Council that at the time the protecting line was changed, those who asked the favor promised that the Council would not be asked to pass an ordinance until the concession would be asked. Those who were foremost in the former fight have not so far appeared in the present contest openly, but De Groot is said to have leased some property inside the line with the intention of being on hand in case the new investors succeed in further encroaching on the public parks.

As a result of the previous action of the Council, the north line of the territory in which the ordinance now protects the drilling of oil wells is only 300 feet from Westlake Park and 300 feet from Sunset Park. A line of oil wells have been drilled, with the result that the protected area appears to be greatly restricted. Commissioner Parker claims that the ordinance is being violated by the drilling of wells by appearance of some of the wells, he thought his derrick outside of the limit and so unintentionally got on forbidden ground. Commissioner Parker didn't stop work when he learned that he was inside the line. He has not only maintained the well which is within the line, but yesterday men were at work sinking another and building the derrick for a third, all within the line which has been plainly defined with stakes by the City Engineer.

The real hope of the present speculation is that the oil wells will be as a leverage to obtain another slice of the territory on the plea of injustice. This means that the water bonds have been traced across this territory, to the concession which they now hope to obtain as a reason for further invasion. By this means the water bonds are gradually to be used to the limit, and together, without risking an action in the courts.

It is thought that the Council will hear to any further reduction of the limit. President Silver and Councilmen Toll and Vetterli, who were present last time, have put themselves on record as being unalterably opposed to any invasion of the 1600-foot limit and several of the Councilmen, including Messrs. Pierce and Fessell, have definitely stated that they would not countenance any further reduction of the limit. This means that the water bonds are proposed to a further reduction, and any ordinance to the effect would promptly receive his veto, none such can be passed unless the Council is divided, who voted against it before firm and either Pierce or Fessell stick to their word.

The whole matter will probably come before the Council on Monday in connection with the ordinance to extend the City Inspector's jurisdiction to the city limits on the old survey for what is now known as Figueroa street, be abandoned and all rights of the city to the property be transferred to the Board of Public Works. The proposed ordinance governing bicycle racks will probably be changed so that it will be necessary to obtain the permission of the tenant to place property before they can be placed in front of a store.

In the suit of Anita Lawlives, charging Curtis Colyear with seduction, the defendant of all blame and damage. She was suing for $10,000. In his answer, Colyear set forth that the woman's character for a number of years past has been very unsavory, and that she has begun since she came to Los Angeles. Frank F. Davis, Esq., who was suing the Inyo Consolidated Mining Company to recover $1100 advanced by him personally for the business of the corporation, was given judgment for that amount yesterday in Judge Trask's court.

Mrs. Soledad Wyche was divorced yesterday by Judge Allen from William Wyche on the ground of extreme cruelty. The charges of threats to kill preferred by Mrs. Wyche against Wyche by Mrs. Wyche were dismissed.

BARTLETT'S BIG SALE

Includes Everything In Spring St. Store.

THE SALE BEGINS TODAY.

The Pianos and Organs are Included at Sale Prices.

Violins' Banjos, Guitars, Mandolins, Music Boxes, Sheet Music, Music Books, Strings, All to be Sold for Cost or Less.

From action taken by the people of Hollywood at a meeting last evening in the First Methodist Church, the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company is likely to build a new electric railway line through the city.

For nearly a quarter of a century the great Bartlett Music House has been doing business in this city, commencing here in a modest way in 1875, and have each year grown bigger and better until we have reached our present magnificent standing. From the sale of two to three pianos a month during the first few years of our existence, the trade has increased until for the past few years there has never been a month that the sales have not exceeded the above number of full carloads, and today we are handling and distributing in the homes of the people of this city and vicinity from five to eight carloads of pianos each month. In keeping with our progressive spirit, we have leased for ten years the warehouses in the beautiful new "Music and Art Building" on Broadway, opposite the public library, which was built expressly for the music business for the Blanchard Music Company, who have retired from the business, selling to the Bartlett Music House their stock and good will.

For several years past our music business has been conducted in the building next to the Los Angeles theater, 233 South Spring street, and in order to be able to make the move to Broadway, which is now an assured fact, it will be necessary to close out absolutely everything now in the old warehouses. If we were to write the above statement in a dozen different ways we could not make it more plain, nor make it mean more.

We will, however, explain in detail what this marvelous proposition means. It means that you will be able to buy here and now sheet music at half and less than half price; that you will be able to buy a Martin guitar, a Florentine mandolin, a Seville guitar, at one-half or less of their retail value; that you will be able to buy a mandolin for $1.95 up, a guitar for $2.25 up, a violin from $2.75 up; in fact, each and every article will be marked to sell at retail for cost or less. It means you can buy here and now an absolutely high-grade, first-class piano worth at regular retail prices no less than $475 for $398.

A $475 piano for $288.
A $450 piano for $248.
A $375 piano for $195.
A $300 piano for $156.
A $250 piano for $187.
A $200 piano for $116.

And this does not mean that we are selling out a lot of old, second-hand or shop-worn pianos, for there will be none included in this sale; neither does it mean that we are selling any cheap or obscure makes of pianos. It does mean that we have included in this sale our entire stock, which includes the world's leading pianos, the class and character of which no honest man will dispute. The world-famous Steinway, the unrivaled Weber and the now universally celebrated new scale Kimball pianos, the products of the three strongest and wealthiest factories in the country, whose combined operating capital exceeds $11,000,000. Besides these three acknowledged leaders in the piano trade, we have an elegant stock of the reliable Wheelock pianos, the "Whitney," "Hemenway & Sons," the "Hinze," the "Stuyvesant," the "Marshall & Co.," the "G. A. Miller & Co.," etc., etc.

In order to enable the factories to count with certainty on a definite yearly output, it is customary to make contracts with large dealers for a stipulated number of instruments to be taken in full carload shipments at certain stated periods. It is only in this way that the dealers can secure the very lowest figures in purchasing pianos, and for years we have found it to our interest and to the interest of our customers to secure our wholesale supply in this way. Our Mr. A. G. Bartlett, who has just returned from an extended trip, while in Chicago, New York and Boston purchased a larger supply than ever before during our business career of almost 25 years, and while our trade in Los Angeles and vicinity has been good beyond precedent, we still find ourselves with a gradually increasing stock of mostly higher-priced instruments on hand.

Now in order to avoid moving a single one of this stock to the new store on Broadway, we have decided to close them out here, now and at once. This is a time of unusual offerings in the sale of commodities of every kind, but never heretofore has such an opportunity been presented whereby retail purchasers could buy pianos on easy payments for less money than most dealers pay for them. We are determined to make this Bartlett's great end of the century sale something long to be remembered by the people of Southern California. We have now here and for sale 225 new upright pianos, including all of the latest 1899 styles and designs from the leading factories of this country.

We will sell today, September 30, a full sized 'T' 1-3 octave, fancy, high-

VICIOUS TRAMP KILLED.

SHOT AT ORANGE BY A SANTA ANA POLICEMAN.

Warm Gun Fight Between Officers and Hobos at a Little Jail—Herbert Glover of Illinois the Dead Man—Burglars.

A vicious tramp was shot at Orange about midnight Thursday night by Officer Jim Murray of Santa Ana, who had gone to that place to assist Deputy Sheriff Will Bush in taking a brace of tough hobos to the Orange county jail. Bush had arrested the hobos early in the evening, and after searching them and finding considerable stolen hardware upon their persons, locked them up in the little old cell of a jail, and as both were considered bad men, he telephoned over to Santa Ana for assistance in transferring them from Orange to that city. Officer Murray responded, and upon arrival at Orange he and Bush proceeded to the jail to get the prisoners. Just before reaching this somewhat improvised structure the officers heard the tramps prying the door off its hinges. They were called to and told to stop that work. By this time the officers had arrived at the building, and Deputy Sheriff Bush proceeded to unlock the door and open it.

As the door opened both tramps threw their guns into the very faces of the officers and began firing and cursing. The first bullet grazed the head of Bush and he fell to the ground from the effect of the shock. Murray threw his weight against the door, at the same time pulling his gun and opening fire upon the assailants. The tramps, however, evidently took effect, although both the tramps kept up an incessant firing. By this time Bush had recovered somewhat from the shock he had received and opened fire, the bullets plunging into the very close to the strained form of Murray, who was endeavoring to keep the door closed against the combined force of the two men on the inside. Murray finally succeeded in forcing the door shut, when one of the tramps called out that they would surrender, and accordingly passed out their weapons, a 44-caliber army pistol and a new 38-caliber automatic hammerless revolver.

The door was then reopened and the men ordered out, when it was ascertained that one of them had been shot. When examined the fellow was found to have been hit in the abdomen, the ball having entered on the left side and lodged just under the skin on the right side. Both were taken to Santa Ana and lodged in the County Jail. It was soon ascertained that the wound inflicted upon one of the men was mortal, and when told this the fellow said that his true name was Herbert Glover, and that his home was in Springfield, Ill., where his father and mother are living at the present time. He also said that he had an uncle, G. C. Glover, living at National City, San Diego county. He gave his partner's name as John Leonard, and said that he hailed from Flagstaff, Ariz. Leonard refused to talk about the shooting or the history of either himself or his wounded partner. Leonard began sinking rapidly about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and at 11:45 a.m. died.

These men are now known to be the parties who robbed a hardware and a second-hand store at San Bernardino less than a week ago. The Santa Ana officers have a list of the stolen and a portion of the hardware was found upon their persons when they were arrested. They are also the same men who drove on a Santa Fe freight conductor last Thursday morning near Fullerton when they were ordered off his train. They are believed to be having some new rascals in leather cases, strapped about their necks. They claimed that there was not a third man in their party; that they had the gun on their persons when the Orange officer searched them, but he did not find the weapons. This Deputy Sheriff Bush says is not true. He claims to have searched them thoroughly, and he is of the belief that an outside third partner passed the weapons in to them after they were locked up in the little jail.

It has only been a few years since Officer Morgan killed a tramp in Santa Ana for resisting arrest, and a little later "Blackie No. 1" got a bullet in the heel for attempting to give the ball while he was being escorted to the County Jail. The Santa Ana officers have about come to the conclusion that it is not safe to take very big chances with the criminal element, and they are governing themselves accordingly.

An inquest was held on Glover's remains yesterday afternoon, and the coroner's jury exonerated Officer Murray from all blame, finding that he was fully justified in killing the tramp.

CLAYTON HELD TO ANSWER.

He Wanted to Fix Rogers as Alford Did Hunter.

The preliminary examination of J. J. Clayton in Justice Morgan's court yesterday afternoon resulted in his being held to answer to the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Bail was fixed at $2000, in default of which he was committed to the custody of the Sheriff.

Clayton is the man who held up the clerks in the office of Earl Rogers, Esq., with a revolver, and subsequently knocked Rogers into insensibility with a blow of his fist. A week's imprisonment has done Clayton a great deal of good. He had been drinking heavily for months, and this is the first time in years, probably, that he has got alcohol thoroughly out of his system.

F. W. Thompson, a clerk in Rogers's office, testified that Clayton came into the office a week ago with the avowed purpose of "fixing" Rogers in the way Alford did Hunter, because he said Rogers owed him money which he would not pay. Thompson related in detail how Clayton covered him with a revolver, and said he had a mind to kill him while he was waiting for Rogers to come in. When W. J. Jory, another clerk, came in, Clayton also compelled him to sit down and keep quiet on pain of being shot. In the course of an hour Rogers came in, and was confronted with Clayton's revolver, but succeeded in turning it aside, and took refuge in his inner office, from which he passed out to Thompson to give to Clayton, so he would not get Thompson shot by Clayton out of the office by telling him he would buy him a drink. On the chair they met, Clayton knocked Rogers down and out with a blow on the chin while standing in front of the clerk's desk.

Rogers, Jory, F. S. Stoddard and Sergt. Morton testified to the same effect. Clayton cross-examined the witnesses for the prosecution in an able manner, but failed to shake their testimony. He called Walter Raymond and Mrs. M. Johnson, R. R. Dorsey and O. D. Fitzgerald to testify in his behalf. Raymond gave unimportant testimony as to remarks made by Rogers when he recovered consciousness in the Receiving Hospital after his knockout. Clayton expected the physicians to testify that he was sorely afflicted with heart disease, but they all agreed that such infirmities as he had were produced by alcoholism.

Clayton appears to be a confirmed hypochondriac. Although a boiler-maker by trade, and a man of excellent physique, he has refrained from work for several years on account of alleged infirmities, which the doctors say he does not have. It is the general belief that enforced abstinence from drink will restore him to good health, and will probably make him of some use to his family.

A second charge of assault to commit murder is pending against Clayton, on account of the Rogers incident, but it will not be pressed until the first is finally disposed of.

STATE WATER STORAGE.

Conference Called for October 7 to Plan for United Action.

The conservation of the waters of the State will be discussed at a conference to be held at the Chamber of Commerce October 7, at which will be present the members of local commercial organizations to meet representative San Franciscans interested in providing some method for water storage. The meeting will be called to order at 2 p.m. and all persons interested in irrigation will be welcomed.

The following statement prepared by the San Francisco delegation gives a succinct outline of existing conditions and the remedial plans proposed:

First—The future of the State of California depends upon the storage of its winter waters.

Second—It would be useless to apply further to the national government for general assistance in such a matter. The national government may aid in the storage of the winter waters of those rivers which are defined as "navigable," it may aid us by detailing officers from its board of engineers to assist us in the work; but we cannot expect it to invest its capital or take up the work generally. It refuses to treat the question other than a local one, and if we wait to have the work done by the national government, we will all die before any progress is made.

Third—The State of California should take up the question as a State government, assume control of the flood waters of the State; impound such waters and distribute them in low seasons at reasonable rates.

Fourth—It is perfectly practicable for the State to construct all the necessary storage reservoirs and distributing works, by the issue of interest-bearing bonds and to pay the interest and the sinking fund necessary to redeem such bonds out of, (a) the income to be derived from the sale of water; (b) the income to be derived from the sale of power; and (c) the income to be derived from the increased taxable valuation of the property of the citizens of the State.

Fifth—That San Francisco, as the largest tax-paying community in the State, should take the initiative in putting such a plan into practical operation; that it should convince the people resident in the country that it recognizes the fact that its very existence depends upon the success of the country, and that it is willing to assume a large share of the burden which will result in direct benefit to the residents of the country.

Sixth—That a convention should be called at an early date, to be held in San Francisco, the delegates to be selected as representative men from the cities and towns of the State, such as San Diego, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Bakersfield, Visalia, Modesto, Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Fresno, etc.

Seventh—That this convention should request the Governor of the State to make a formal request upon the State University to investigate and report to the Governor, at an early date as possible, the location and description of the available reservoir sites in the State, and the maximum cost of constructing such reservoirs and distributing canals and appurtenances to each reservoir site.

Eighth—That upon response of the University of California that it has not the available means to make such examination and report (which response will be inevitable) the appropriate committee of such convention provide the means through, (a) private subscriptions; (b) popular subscriptions collected through the public press of the State; and (c) subscriptions from appropriations which may be made by the various boards of supervisors under the present existing laws.

Ninth—That upon the receipt of such report, the same, or liberal extracts from the same, be published and circulated among the voters of the State for the purpose of educating them up to the proposition that the State can afford to issue bonds and construct the storage dams and distributing works in question.

Tenth—That the appropriate committee, appointed by such convention, secure from the national and State legislatures the necessary amendments to existing acts of Congress and statutes of the State to carry the plan into effect.

Eleventh—That an organized campaign be made for the purpose of securing from the citizens of the State the necessary votes to secure the issue of the bonds necessary to carry the plan into effect.

Twelfth—That the convention, each and every member thereof, and appropriate committees thereof keep close watch over the construction of these reservoirs and distributing works, for the purpose of preventing theft and dishonesty, so commonly an adjunct to public works.

Ostriches from Hawaii.

There will arrive in Los Angeles shortly a consignment of eleven ostriches en route from the Hawaiian Islands to the Ostrich Farm at Pasadena. These birds, which are gigantic compared with the average specimen, are descended from a group of ostriches sent to the islands from Africa some ten years ago. They thrived exceedingly well in the tropical latitude, but the recent volcanic eruptions there destroyed a number of the flocks and the remaining birds were purchased for the local farm.

They reached San Francisco yesterday and stood the trip remarkably well. The new arrivals will form the nucleus of another large ostrich flock, and the California establishment will be the only rival to the immense farms owned and controlled by a New York syndicate, that practically monopolizes the trade.

Lectures on Popular Books.

Commencing Sunday afternoon, Rev. Leonard Garver of Harvard this State will give a series of lectures on popular books under the general title of "Life Lessons from Literature."

The lectures will be under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mr. Garver will speak upon Charles M. Sheldon's famous book, "In His Steps," and on the evenings of the following week will speak upon "The Value of a Character in Conscience," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," or the "Dual Nature of Man," "The Christian, or Success and Failure," and "Silas Marner, or the Transformation Power of Love." The Sunday afternoon meeting will be for men, but the evening meetings will be for all. Admission tickets can be obtained free at the Young Men's Christian Association.

Flexible Rubber Dental Plates

Have many advantages over the old thick, cumbersome, ordinary rubber plates and even over gold plates, being much lighter and thinner.

These plates are flexible, only a trifle thicker than heavy writing paper, fit closer and adhere better to the roof of the mouth. Particles of food and small seeds cannot get under them. They will last longer, are stronger than any others, and will not break as they will give first, being flexible. One tried none other will be desirable. Dr. Schiffman's own process, brought to the notice of the public by him only, and made ONLY by us. A perfect fit guaranteed in every case of plate work.

PASADENA.

ANNUAL FEAST OF YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Large Attendance and Great Entertainment—Reports and Election—Visitors Entertained by Eastern Star—Presentation by Woodmen—Risky Shooter.

PASADENA, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] Enthusiasm ran high at the annual supper and business meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association this evening. One hundred and thirty-five people addressed themselves to a plentiful supper, handsomely spread and served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. B. W. Hahn presiding. Double the number of young men that ever attended before, partook both of the supper and the other proceedings in K. of P. Hall.

President A. L. Hamilton presided at the meeting. Directors were chosen for the following year as follows: C. A. Smith, D. C. Smith, Ernest Canfield, A. L. Hamilton, B. W. Hahn, E. T. Sams, J. W. Huggins, H. M. Lutz, G. W. Stinson, Aaron Roberts, M. A. Hall, A. L. Gammon, L. H. Thayer. Piano solo was played by Ella Bonner. The report of the treasurer showed total receipts of $138.40 for the year. The expenses were $157.87. The association has paid off all the old notes and begins its new year with a little balance in the treasury.

General Secretary Parsons, in his annual report, showed the prosperity of the association's "four-square" work, although it has been handicapped by a lack of room. An active interest has been taken in the social and athletic privileges. The monthly social given by the young people's societies of the various churches has attracted many young people to the gymnasium work has grown to fine efficiency. The spiritual side of development has not been neglected, the gospel meetings having been held every Sunday. The association is entirely out of debt and is doing business on a cash basis, thanks chiefly to the check for $250 presented by W. Huggins (Applause). If ninety-nine other Pasadenaans would give an equal amount, said the secretary, we could erect our new building at once.

During the year 29,659 visits have been made to the rooms, an average of 110 per day. "And I have not heard the profane or rude remarks in the rooms during the year," added the secretary. [Cries of "good" and applause.] At the gospel meetings there has been an average of about eighty-eight each Sunday afternoon. At each monthly social, the number present has been about one hundred. The association has been very successful in the poor and sick, having furnished food, clothing, help in securing work, etc. in 47 cases.

Amid a burst of applause, a rising vote of thanks was tendered to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their assistance. Two songs were sung by Charles Gahr, Rev. Leonard Garver of Hayward, Cal., was introduced and made a speech. He was followed by W. M. Parsons, State secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who earnestly covered the officers and members of the local body on the good reports made. Clyde Seavey told a humorous story in a way that evoked loud applause. Remarks were made by C. C. Reynolds, W. S. Melick and Rev. Frank Culver. The latter started a fund to pay for memberships for poor boys by donating $5. Other offerings were called for, and $22.50 was raised.

WOODMEN'S FROLIC.
Pasadena Camp of Woodmen and Live Oak Circle, Ladies of Woodcraft crowded Oak Circle, Sept. 29, for the entertainment and dance given by these organizations. A violin solo was played by C. Reimann; a solo was sung by Mrs. J. C. Rosseter; Schilling's Orchestra performed a selection. Clyde Seavey gave a recitation; Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge contributed a piano duet; the Massello and Quintel Quartet played and the Woodmen Quartette rendered a rousing number. The surprise of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful gold watch to Past Commander Henry Ramel, a great favorite. Judge Rosseter made the presentation speech and Mr. Ramel responded.

EASTERN STAR.
Pasadena Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, gave a royal reception this evening to Joseph M. Lawrence, Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of the State of California. Visitors were present from the Valley of the Euphrates, Southgate and Los Angeles chapters, and among the guests was Mrs. Flora E. Haviland, Past Grand Matron of the State of California. A most attractive supper was served, over two hundred people sitting down to beautifully-decorated tables. The ladies of the order did themselves proud. Mrs. Sophia K. Durrant was in the chair.

JAMES WARD SENTENCED.
James Ward, the tramp who was suspected of having set fire to the two barns that were burned on North Moline avenue Monday night, was today sent down for thirty days for vagrancy by the City Recorder. Although the police firmly believe that he slept in one of the barns that evening and his coat was scorched, it was not possible to secure evidence to warrant bringing a felony charge. In passing sentence, the Recorder told Ward of the suspicions against him, to which he replied that he did not know of the fires till a lady, whom he asked for assistance next day, told him what had happened. It has been proven that the clothing found in his possession did not come from the burned houses.

PASADENA BREVIETTES.
There is some alarm in North Pasadena over the antics of an old fellow who is evidently deranged, and who makes a practice of shooting his revolver into his hedge without regard to consequences, saying that he is firing at his enemies.

A stiff bicycle ordinance against riding bicycles on the sidewalks has gone into effect in South Pasadena. The punishment is a fine not exceeding $200, or imprisonment for not more than two months.

The Association of Congregational Churches of Southern California will meet here October 9, 10 and 11, and it is expected that about 150 delegates will be present.

SANTA MONICA.

Apparently Perfect Scheme of Sewer Flushing—Street Cleaning.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] The plan which has been perfected for the flushing of the sewer system seems to have effectively abolished all causes for complaint of foul odors. The lateral sewers in the alleys running northward from Railroad avenue are flushed with fresh water. The water is taken from fire hydrants and run into manholes with fire hose. A big wooden plug is inserted in the outlet at the bottom of the manhole and by that means the water may be backed up through as many blocks of the sewer as desired. The plug is then removed and the water is allowed to flow into the main sewer. The operation may be repeated at as many different manholes as desired. By the use of the plug device the manholes are temporarily sealed to serve as flush tanks. The lateral sewers are flushed in that manner and the big trunk sewer into which they drain is flushed with ocean water which is discharged into it in large quantities under heavy pressure at frequent intervals.

SANTA MONICA BREVIETTES.
Work has commenced on the construction of the new gas plant.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Austin of Denver, Colo., are staying at the Arcadia. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson of Los Angeles returned from a wedding trip on today's steamer and are at the Arcadia. They will be at home next week at the Gray Gables in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clark and Mrs. J. R. Clark and son returned today from a trip through the Ojai Valley.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Moody died yesterday.

A 10-inch well on the Carpenter & Dadd tract, east of the city, to a depth of 280 feet, has developed an apparently abundant supply of water. The water rises to within forty-eight feet of the surface. The water near the bottom has not yet been cut to increase the flow.

The removal of the accumulated dust and litter on the surface of the principal streets was begun today. The loose dirt is hoed into piles and hauled away, leaving a hard surface. It is hoped that the scheme will in a measure abate the evils produced by salt water street sprinkling and lessen the cost of keeping the dust laid.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

Feculent Position in Which Gwin May Be Placed.

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] Mrs. de Conague Gwin, first wife of Dr. Walter R. Gwin, the alleged Massachusetts bigamist, has brought action in the Massachusetts courts to declare null and void the divorce under which the doctor claims a divorce absolute. This would leave him married to two wives, with no possible defense on the charge of bigamy now against him in Maine. Dr. Gwin eloped from Falmouth, Mass., with Miss May Lake, and married her in Maine, two months after he had secured a divorce from his first wife, and before the law of Massachusetts allowed him to remarry. The divorce in California, and was followed by a detective and lawyer in the employ of Miss Lake's father, who obtained papers which secured and Gwin was taken to Dover, Me., for his hearing. Bail was there secured, and he returned to Santa Barbara county. He is now at Santa Maria.

SANTA BARBARA BREVIETTES.
The children of the Fifth Ward school in this city have commenced pick and shovel work, making a big garden about their schoolhouse. The building stands upon a large piece of ground, all of which has hitherto been used as a playground. About sixty pupils are putting in spare moments in this gardening movement.

A horse-training ring is being made at Capt. Dixie W. Thompson's stables at the training of some thoroughbreds kept there by Francis T. Underhill, a New York club man residing here. The ring is six feet across, and is dug to a depth of two feet. Sawdust is being filled in, and this will be topped with hay. The object is to make the horses step as high as possible, and to give them the city steeple.

A man named William Watson was sent here on Wednesday from one of the railroad camps. He was said to be insane, and was put in jail. Yesterday afternoon, however, it was found that the man was sick and not crazy. After a careful examination he was sent out last night to the hospital, where it was found that he had a case of typhoid fever. It was stated that the charge of insanity was made for the purpose of throwing the sick man upon the city's charge.

Mrs. F. J. McCormick and Mrs. Kittie McCormick left here this afternoon for their home in Los Angeles. They have been visiting for two weeks at Camp McCormick, on the "gap."

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

WHITTIER BLOCK AT HENET DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Heavy Loss the Result of an Explosion of Gasoline—Two Men Burned and One Badly Crushed. Co. G's Shoot.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] Work has been started here of the fire which destroyed the Whittier block in the town of Hemet today. The fire was caused by an explosion of gasoline at 2:40 p.m. The explosion scattered the flames and other explosions followed, and in control. The fire originated in the store of W. J. Prugh, in the block above mentioned, and at 3:40 the walls of the building fell in. Prugh's stock was partly saved, and the furniture of the bank in the same building was saved. The block contained a fine opera house, the Hemet Land Company's office, and a butcher shop, besides the Prugh store. There were several lodgers in the building, also. W. J. Prugh and George Bookbinder were badly burned. Ed Robertson was crushed between a safe and the wall and seriously injured. The total loss is not stated. The insurance was $1200.

FULLERTON.

Walnut Shipments—Flight Against Sunday Closing—Oil Development.

FULLERTON, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] The packing-house here have been in the hands of cleaners and repairs this week. Those of the Fullerton, Golden Belt and Placentia associations will open Monday morning for the receipt of walnuts. The balance of the houses will be open the next few days. Gathering has been in progress in the groves all of this week, and is beginning to provide work for many new people. Labor is coming in rapidly, however, and there is not at present prospect of shortage of help to handle the crop. Delivery Monday will commence strong, and it is believed will continue without slackening until the crop is entirely out of the way. The nuts being gathered are of the finest quality ever grown here.

AGAINST SUNDAY RACING.

Sunday horse-racing on the public streets of the city is being met with vigorous protest if attempted this Sunday. There are a good many opposed to the practice and they have arranged for a determined effort to stop it. There is no opposition to the racing directly, and if the horses were taken to a private track or course, the city would have no objection. The racing, however, there will be no protest, so the position of anti-street racing people is understood. Races bring a great many people to the city on Sunday, and a large sum of money is left. The racing people argue that use of the streets, when advanced announcement is made, does no harm, and that it is a necessary effort to curtail their sport. Another element strongly favors building a private track for the Sunday meetings.

OIL STRUCK.
Oil has been struck in No. 1 well in the new Brea Cañon field at 600 feet. The well will be drilled to a depth of 1000 feet, and a big strike is looked for. No. 2 well is now being drilled. Notwithstanding the high price of iron development throughout the oil territory continues steady with rapid increase in the daily receipt of materials in carload lots.

ANAHEIM.

Grape Crop Showing Up in Good Shape This Year.

ANAHEIM, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] Grapes delivered at the wineries this week are showing up very strong. John Fischer, the oldest vintner in the city, states that this year's grapes are prime, heavy and within 5 per cent. of the highest purity ever obtained in the district. Growers are having excellent yields. No sign of the old disease is extant and the industry gives promise of widening to something like the old-time proportions next season. Many growers are preparing to use foothill lands for grapes, and are of the opinion that within a few years the industry will be of greater importance in this section than in its most palmy old-time grape days. New territory will be brought under cultivation, and the present fruit and walnut interests on the old grape lands little disturbed.

ALL DRIVEN OUT.

The city has fairly been ridden of the last disreputable resort. A year ago six such places thrived in the town. They have been forced to leave through the efforts of Constable Liewellyn, and the county officials, because of selling liquors without a county license.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

Murderer in Jail at Escondido.

Mrs. Ryerson's Hearing.
SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] The steamer St. Denis, which arrived this morning from Escondido, brings the news that Patrio Almadena, the Mexican who murdered Severino Rodriguez at El Cajon on Saturday, September 16, is confined in the jail there. Almadena was arrested soon after he crossed the line, on a charge of an offense he had committed some two years ago in Lower California. The description of the man incarcerated at Escondido corresponded exactly with Rodriguez's murderer.

SHE WILL BE LIBERATED.
Mrs. Ryerson, widow of the late Gov. Ryerson, who was arrested several months ago at Escondido, charged with hanging a boy to a tree near her residence, has had her preliminary trial and the evidence has been forwarded to the City of Mexico. As a result of the examination it is believed that Mrs. Ryerson will soon regain her liberty, and the only damage to her reputation is the fact that several days prior to the boy's body being found suspended to a tree she was seen beating him.

Under the Mexican law the person who is charged with a crime must leave no question of doubt as to the person's guilt.

SAN DIEGO BREVIETTES.
T. H. Silsbee has returned from a visit to the New River country on the Colorado Desert. The New River has more water in it than usual at this time of year, and the 3000 cattle grazing along the river bottoms are in fine shape.

Harry Morse, assistant clerk of the City Board of Education, has resigned his position and will leave next week for Leipzig, Germany, where he will study in the study of the German language.

Judge Torrance yesterday released William and Jacob Lasky, the colored youths charged with burglary, on the ground that the evidence introduced at the preliminary examination was insufficient to bind the accused over for trial in the Superior Court. In all probability the case will be dropped now.

The steamer Carmarthenshire has finished loading and will sail this afternoon for the Orient.

CORONADO BEACH.

HOTEL DEL CORONADO, Sept. 29.

U. F. Newlin, head clerk at the hotel, left yesterday for a month's tour in Southern California and San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham E. Babcock and Miss Edwards returned yesterday from a two months' sojourn at Kilgore, Idaho.

Among yesterday's arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, San Francisco; E. D. Newburger, Chicago; Emel F. Tamen and I. H. Brookhouse, Los Angeles.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

Fred Jackson on Trial for Burglary.

Co. K's Shoot.
SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] Fred Jackson was on trial today in Department One of the Superior Court, before Judge Oster and a jury, on the charge of burglary. He is accused of having entered a tenth house at Redlands early on the morning of July 28, and stolen a watch, a ring, a pair of shoes, and some clothing. The jury was out for some time, and found Jackson crawling on the floor. He was soon after arrested. The case went to the jury late this afternoon.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVIETTES.
Thirty-one member of Co. K, N.G.C., participated in the first of a series of three shoots yesterday at the range north of town. Out of a possible 75, the highest score was 60, which was made by Private N. W. Faris. Only five of the contestants scored above 45: Sgt. Allen, 49; Private Frantz, 46; Private Ralston, 45; and Private Tarbox, 46. The average was 29.84 for each man who shot.

Ida Wetzel was committed to Highland Asylum yesterday by Judge Campbell, on the testimony of R. T. Wetzel, Dr. C. D. Dickey and Dr. I. W. Hazlett.

Word was received here today from Orange county in the case of a young man who recently burglarized Shafer Bros.' store, and of the subsequent killing of one of the prisoners.

A petition was filed today for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of a young man, recently bound over for trial in the Superior Court on the charge of practicing fraud by "doctoring" a school diploma, in order to obtain the principalship of the Rialto schools. The petition will be argued on Monday before Judge Oster.

H. B. Baker today filed a claim to all water flowing from a spring, to be known as Burro Spring, and flowing within the limits of the De-wee place, at a point half a mile south of Gold Mountain, near the head of Bear Valley. The water is to be used for mining, manufacturing and irrigating purposes.

VENTURA COUNTY.

Time for the Election of City Officials Approaching.

VENTURA, Sept. 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] The inner circle of the ring in the city politics is now beginning to stir. The election of city officials will be held in December, but the ticket must be made thirty days before the day of election. A majority of the Council declare that they will not be in the field this fall. The present City Marshal and Clerk will be candidates for reelection. All other officers are appointed by the board.

The jury in the case of the People vs. William Murray, colored, failed to agree on a verdict after three hours' deliberation, and were discharged at 8 o'clock last night. It is said that the jury stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. The case occupied the attention of the Superior Court the entire day.

J. W. Hayes, who is charged with having burglarized a box car at Oxnard, being tried in the Superior Court today.

A deal has been closed by George C. Power, whereby 124 acres of land on the Rancho Santa Clara del Norte will be set to apportion.

Mrs. Sarah M. Peck, aged 41 years, died last night after a prolonged illness.

SCORNE THE DUTCH.

BASSETT NILES'S REMARKS LED TO A BAD STABBING.

Words War Between Two Employees of the Olympic Station Ends in One of Them Wielding a Knife With Serious Results.

Bassett Niles, a young man who has been employed as a waiter and general roustabout at the Olympic Hall, No. 121 West First street, was sent to the Receiving Hospital about 6 o'clock last evening. He was suffering from the effects of a knife thrust inflicted by Charles Greenman another employee of the saloon.

Niles has been employed at the place only a short time, and it is said that on account of his quarrelsome disposition he was to have been discharged soon. The knowledge of this fact made him more ugly than usual with the other employees.

Yesterday afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'clock, Niles and Greenman were in the kitchen, the latter feeling potatoes. Niles became abusive, it is alleged, and began to cast uncalculated slurs on the Dutch in general, and Greenman in particular, informing the latter that he was merely an ordinary Dutch car and not worth more than the potatoes.

When the fracas was ended it was seen that Niles was severely wounded, and he was hurried to the hospital. The Greenman put on his hat and left the place.

When Niles was examined at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Hagan, it was seen that the omentum, or apron which covers the bowels, was protruding between six and eight inches from the wound on the left side, and it was deemed necessary to perform an operation in order to ascertain whether any of the vital organs had been cut. Niles was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where the operation was performed by Dr. Hagan, assisted by Drs. Stoner, Lewis and Smith.

It was found that the knife entered between the tenth and eleventh ribs, on the left side, and penetrated the lung and abdominal cavities. It did not injure the intestines, but cut into the supra renal capsule of the left kidney. The knife entered the body about four inches.

While the wound is serious, it is not necessarily fatal. As a result of the omentum protruding from the wound, thus coming into contact with foreign substance, when the injured man was sent to the hospital, blood poisoning may set in; if not, he has a fair chance of recovery. The wounded man also has a slight cut on the fleshy part of the left arm, between the elbow and shoulder.

Harry Johnson, secretary to the Chief of Police, attempted to get a statement from Niles last night, but was unsuccessful, the latter saying that he did not want Greenman prosecuted. The police detectives endeavored to locate Greenman last night, but up to late this afternoon, he had not been located.

Are You Sure That Your Heart Is Sound?

Heart disease creeps upon one insidiously, that is, slowly and unobtrusively. Oftentimes when one begins to realize it, organic destruction has already taken place.

You need not suffer such consequences, for the figure will diagnose your case in time, before the danger line is reached. An impaired heart's action makes itself known by frequent headaches. Fig. 1—Flushing of cheeks or face upon slight exertion; Fig. 2, 3—Irregular fluttering at times (palpitation); Fig. 4—Weakness of limbs; Fig. 5—Cold hands and feet, dizzy spells, tendency to faint, shortness of breath, pain in left side, and irregular pulse.

If one or more of the above symptoms are present, by all means use HUDYAN. HUDYAN is intended for such conditions, and will promptly strengthen the action of the heart, HUDYAN has reduced fatalities from heart disease to a great extent.

Statistics prove that about one person out of five suffers from heart disease, and yet those who avail themselves of HUDYAN live to a ripe old age.

Heart disease, if allowed to proceed in its own course, soon ends in sudden death. To all people who experience the above symptoms, HUDYAN is a blessing indeed.

HUDYAN is for sale by all druggists for 50c a package or 6 packages for $2.50.

If your druggist does not keep HUDYAN send direct to the

BARRETT'S LECTURE.

A Subject of Importance to the Pacific Coast.

The lecture to be given in this city by Hon. John Barrett, ex-United States Minister to Siam, will be delivered at the Simpson Auditorium, Hope street, between Seventh and Eighth, next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. This lecture is to be given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, upon "America's Commercial Interests in the Pacific and the Far East," a subject of great importance to Southern California, and the admission will be free. Mr. Barrett's long residence in Siam, the Philippine Islands, and in various parts of the Orient has afforded him the best of opportunities to study the subject from every standpoint. He is prepared to explain the great advantages which will accrue to the United States, and particularly to this Coast by the expansion of American commerce in and beyond the Pacific. He has spoken upon the same subject in the Orient and in this country, and has attracted large and interested audiences.

The Chamber of Commerce has issued special invitations to its members, and their friends, but the public, both ladies and gentlemen, will be welcome. As the subject is one that every citizen of this State is interested in, a large audience is expected.

At the close of the lecture a reception will be tendered Mr. Barrett.

Bids Opened Yesterday at the Office of Capt. Meyer.

Bids for continuing the construction of the jetty at San Diego Harbor were opened yesterday at the office of Capt. James J. Meyer, Corps of Engineers, U.S.A. The bids were requested upon the construction of 1000 feet of trestle for a double-track railway, and 2000 feet of trestle for a single-track railway; also for the delivery of 28,000 short tons of stone, 3000 cubic yards of brush mattresses, and twelve repair piles.

Five bids were received from four contractors, Healy, Tebbitts & Co., submitting two, one for delivery of material by barge, $68,140, and one for delivery by truck, $85,730. The California Bridge and Construction Company of San Francisco bid $89,824; Elisha S. Babcock of Coronado, $77,296; Waldo S. Waterman of San Diego, $78,330.

The bids were submitted in detail, and after classification they will be forwarded to Washington for approval. The work is to be begun within thirty days of the receipt of the notice from Washington that contract and bond are accepted.

TWO STILLS CONFISCATED.

Druggist Vocekil Neglected to Register the Apparatus.

The United States Internal revenue officers for this district yesterday seized two stills which were in the possession of Henry G. Vocekil, a druggist at the corner of Main and Fifth streets. Notice was received by the government officers a few days ago that alcohol was being illegally distilled at Vocekil's place and an examination brought to light an ordinary druggist's tin still, together with a copper still of ten-gallon capacity. The druggist denies that he has made illegal use of the apparatus, but the seizure was made because the stills were not registered as required by law. No evidence has been developed upon which a charge of illicit distilling can be made.

The matter has been referred to the Revenue Collector at San Francisco for such action as he may deem proper.
